ARTICLE 19 CAN'T BE INVOKED AGAINST PRIVATE FIRM: META

Freedom of speech can't be invoked against a private company like Meta, its lawyers told the Delhi High Court on Thursday

ACCOUNT SUSPENDED FOR VIOLATING CONTRACT

Meta was responding to a petition filed by Wokeflix—which publishes political satire over social media—against the suspension of its account by Meta-owned Instagram for violating the platform's "community guidelines". Meta said Instagram users enter into a contract with it when they sign up to use it, and action was taken against Wokeflix for violating the said contract

META MAY HAVE VIOLATED IT RULES, 2021

- Responding to Wokeflix's claim it was not informed or given an opportunity to be heard before its account was suspended, Meta said the user is entitled to be heard only once the action is taken
- However, the Centre had told the court in March that rules require big social media firms to notify users before taking action | P9

4.7mn more Covid deaths in India, says WHO

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

INDIA saw 4.7 million more Covid-19 deaths by 2021-end, which is 10 times the official figures of half a million and almost a third of Covid deaths globally, according to estimates put out by the World Health Organisation (WHO) on Thursday. Shortly thereafter, the Union government issued a strong rebuttal questioning the validity and robustness of the models used by the global health body and its methodology of data collection.

WHO estimates suggest the full toll associated directly or indirectly with the pandemic (described as excess mortality) between January 1, 2020 and December 31, 2021 was approximately 14.9 million (range 13.3-16.6 million).

Excess mortality is calculated as the difference between the number of deaths that have occurred and the number that would be expected in the absence of the pandemic based on data from earlier years. Excess mortality includes deaths associated with Covid-19 directly or indirectly due to the pandemic's impact on health systems and society.

India saw the largest absolute excess mortality numbers as compared to any other country in the world. The estimates put around 8,30,000 excess deaths in 2020 and 3.9 million in 2021 — most of them during the second wave. Men accounted for 57% of the estimated excess deaths. As many as 78% of the excess deaths were in the 60-plus age group.

The health ministry strongly pushed back, saying "Despite India's objection to the process, methodology, and outcome of this modelling exercise, WHO has released the excess mortality estimates without adequately addressing India's concerns."

India told the WHO that in view of the availability of authentic data published through Civil Registration System by the Registrar General of India, mathematical models should not be used for projecting excess mortality data.

Most of the excess deaths (84%) are concentrated in South-East Asia, Europe, and the Americas.

Delimitation done, J&K poll clock ticks

Two nominated seats for Pandits part of panel's final report

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

DECKS were cleared on Thursday for the first-ever Assembly polls in the Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir after the final Delimitation Commission report rejected objections of three of the five associate members and Kashmir-based parties on redrawing its constituencies.

Elections can be expected within the next five to six months.

The commission allotted six additional seats to the Jammu region and only one to Kashmir, though the latter has 15 lakh more population. Also, nine constituencies for were reserved for Scheduled Tribes for the first time in J&K's history.

Two nominated Assembly seats for Kashmiri Pandits and some seats for refugees from Pakistan occupied Kashmir were part of the recommendations of the commission headed by Justice (retd) Ranjana Prakash Desai with Chief Election Commissioner Sushil Chandra and J&K State Election Commissioner K K Sharma as members.

One of the nominated Pandits should be a female, the panel recommended. It suggested such members be given powers at par with that of nominated members of the Puducherry Assembly.

The panel's report was notified and published in the Gazette.

In the outgoing J&K Assembly comprising 87 seats, Kashmir had 46 seats, Jammu 37 and Ladakh 4. In all, J&K will have five parliamentary constituencies with 18 Assembly seats in each of them. The Anantnag-Pulwama seat in south Kashmir has been renamed as Anantnag-Poonch. It will now comprise three south Kashmir districts and the border districts of Poonch and Rajouri of the Jammu region.

Nine of the existing Assembly constituencies have been changed. Following suggestions from political parties and the public, the panel renamed Tangmarg seat as Gulmarg, Zoonimar as Zaidibal, Sonwar as Lal Chowk, Padder as Padder-Nagseni, Kathua North as Jasrota, Kathua South as Kathua, Khour as Chhamb, Mahore as Gulabhgarh and Darhal as Budhal.

Besides, some existing Assembly seats were deleted and new constituencies created.

J&K has been under Central rule since mid-June, 2018 when the BJP withdrew support to the Mehbooba-led PDP-BJP coalition government.

The Delimitation Commission was set up in March 2020 to redraw the Assembly and parliamentary constituencies in J&K after Article 370 was hollowed out and the state bifurcated into two Union Territories. On March 14 this year, the panel put its interim report in public domain and invited objections and suggestions.

Day after RBI's rate hike, banks up interest on loans

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

COMMERCIAL banks on Thursday started increasing their lending and deposit rates a day after the RBI raised the repo rate — the rate at which it lends to banks.

While ICICI Bank, Bank of Baroda and DCB Bank were among the first to raise repo-linked lending rates, Kotak Mahindra Bank raised the deposit rates by 30-35 basis points.

This will make home, auto and SME loans costlier by 40 basis points (0.4 percentage point) as banks pass on their increased costs of funds to fresh and existing borrowers.

ICICI Bank said that its external benchmark lending rate or I-EBLR is referenced to the RBI Policy Repo Rate with a mark-up over the rate at 8.10% effective May 4.

Bank of Baroda on Thursday raised retail loans linked with Baroda Linked Lending Rate to 6.9%, which is at a 250-basis point mark-up over the repo rate.

DCB Bank also hiked its EBLR from 8.44% to 8.84% and EBLR for home loan to 8.56%, up by 40 bps.

The RBI on Wednesday raised the repo rate by 40 bps to 4.4% to contain inflationary pressures.

'By switching parties, Horatti violating statute'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

LEADER of Opposition in the Council BK Hariprasad on Thursday hit out at Upper House Chairman Basavaraj Horatti for "violating" the Constitution by announcing his decision to join the BJP while holding office. The Congress leader said this conduct of Horatti comes under the ambit of the Anti-Defection Law.

Horatti had recently met Union Home Minister Amit Shah during the latter's visit to Bengaluru and announced his decision to join the BJP. Horatti, who was with the JDS, is likely to be the BJP candidate for the upcoming MLC polls from West Teachers' constituency.

"A person is free to join any party, but after the Anti-Defection law came into effect, anyone (elected representative) joining the other party or making such a statement, comes under the ambit of the 10th Schedule. He has said he will resign as Chairman on May 11 and join the BJP, it is against the Constitution," he added, demanding Horatti's resignation.

"A similar situation arose when Rajya Sabha member Sharad Yadav said he would join the RJD. Rajya Sabha Chairman Venkaiah Naidu used that statement of Yadav to disqualify him," Hariprasad said.

CID ARRESTS TWO MORE COPS IN PSI SCAM

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI @Kalaburagi

As the CID intensifies its probe into the PSI-CET scam, the alleged connivance of police officials with the racketeers has led to the arrest of two more police officials, including a DySP rank officer, on Thursday.

CID sleuths grilled DySP Mallikarjun Sali of of Lingsugur, Raichur district, and inspector Anand Metre (Fingerprints, Kalaburagi) for over 10 hours on Wednesday and Thursday, and arrested both in the afternoon. Government counsel of third JMFC Court Shivasharanappa told TNIE that "the duo was produced before the judge who remanded them to 8 days in police custody". The accused are facing charges of helping one of the main accused, RD Patil. Patil is facing charges of helping candidates write the PSI-CET held last October using Bluetooth devices.

With the arrest of Sali and Metre, the total number of arrests has touched 31. While 28 arrests (including Sali and Metre) were made in connection with the PSI-CET scam at Jnana Jyoti English Medium School Centre, the remaining three arrests were in connection with the scam at MSI Degree College.

Raichur SP Nikhal B said, "To complete the formalities, a report will be sought on the arrest of Mallikarjun Sali. It would be sent to the Director General of Police directly."

The DGP has already issued orders suspending DySP (Fingerprints) RR Hosmani and Women's Police Station inspector, Kalaburagi, Dileep Sagar. Kalaburagi police commissioner suspended constable Rudregowda on Wednesday. CID is yet to quiz Hosamani and Dileep, sources said.

SMOOTH AS SILK

Cosmetics straight from the cocoon

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA, a leader in silk manufacturing and popular for its silk saris, is now working on being number one to show that nothing is waste in silk — not even sericin, the protein which is extracted in the yarn and fibre stage, and discarded due to its unwanted effects on the quality of the textile.

Sericin, a protein created by Bombyx mori (silkworms) in the production of silk, is normally removed as it blocks penetration of chemicals into the fibres. This results in making fibres harsh and stiff. Therefore, removing sericin is an important step in getting get a proper material for textile.

But now, after a two-year-long study, researchers from Karnataka State Sericulture Research and Development Institute (KSSRDI) are set to launch 12 cosmetic products made from sericin — all organic, good for the skin and health. That is not all, the institute is also working on inviting companies to showcase the technology to commercially launch the products in the market.

Organic soaps made with sericin, a protein created by silkworms

"People assume that sericulture is only about silk cocoons that end up in saris. But that is not true. A lot of by-products can be made and we have just done a portion of it. When a yarn is made into fabric, there is 32 per cent wastage. Of this, 25 per cent is sericin, which is very rich in protein and it can be mixed with other natural ingredients to make products," Dr PG Radhakrishna, Director, KSSRDI, told The New Indian Express.

Gupta shunted out of BBMP, Girinath new chief

He was transferred because of the tough stance he took: Officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a major reshuffle, the State government on Thursday announced a series of transfers. However, the transfer of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta has caught the attention as its just been a year after he took charge. Tushar Girinath has been appointed as the new BBMP chief commissioner. He was serving as the Revenue Department secretary.

Gupta has now been posted as the additional chief secretary of Infrastructure Development Department. T K Anil Kumar who was the principal secretary, Health and Family Welfare Department is now the secretary of Revenue Department.

Manjunath Prasad handed over the Chief Commissioners post to Gupta on April 1, 2021. He was also posted as BBMP administrator from September to March 2022, for a duration of six months.

According to talks in BBMP: "Girinath's name was doing rounds for the BBMP Commissioners post twice when Kumar and Prasad were being transferred. Now it is the first time he is getting posted here."

Officials in BBMP said that Gupta has been transferred because of the tough stance he took to handle many situations and as he did not bend to the tune of the politicians. The officials added that one year in that post is considered to be too long, especially when elections are round the corner. He was also sticking to the rule book and was not showing any sign of changing. The rising court case against BBMP was also becoming a matter of prestige for the government to handle.

Green of a different kind: Screens to hide civic work

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

"BENGALURU is turning green," tease social media users, as BBMP put up green screens to cover up work on Old Airport Road.

Harish Bijoor, brand strategist and founder of Harish Bijoor Consults Inc, pointed out on social media that green screens were brought up only when VIPs were in the area.

In his tweet on Thursday, Bijoor said, "Parde-ke-peeche-kya-hai?' Time to re-name #OldAirportRoad our new #VIPRoad in Bengaluru! Everytime there is VIP movement on this road, green curtains come up to cover BBMP work-in-progress! And once they pass by, its all rolled up! Business as usual! Nice!" Speaking to TNIE, he said that it was a common occurrence that whenever VIPs were in the area, screens would come up.

According to BBMP Chief Engineer (Projects) Lokesh Mahadevaiah, "The work being undertaken on the road is for the signal-free corridor being undertaken by BBMP. Interestingly, the work was due to finish in September 2021, but had its deadline extended to March 2022. Despite this, work is still underway."

The incident bears resemblance to Donald Trump's visit to Gujurat, where it was widely reported that a wall had been hastily constructed to block the view of a slum on the former US president's route.

Excise licensees plan strike against online billing software

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE new billing software for online purchase of alcohol by all retail licensees at the Karnataka State Breweries Corporation Limited (KSBCL) has reportedly created a logjam amid a temporary shortage of stocks of alcohol, sources on condition of anonymity told TNIE. The Excise licencees (retailers) are planning to go on strike against the new indenting software.

"The new software was implemented from April 1 without any pilot. Hence, when implemented multiple issues such as accounting, payments, indenting etc have emerged, which have impacted all stake holders; from retail licensees to distilleries," said sources.

"The time for indent to be raised is 9 pm to 9 am. Retail licensees are spending sleepless nights to raise indents in middle of the night. Besides, big volume brands like Haywards/ Original Choice/Kingfisher strong beer have multiple supply source codes as they are supplied from multiple units. Since the new software does not recognise this the retailers are getting short supplied. The algorithms for allocation should have captured the challenge and allocation of stocks made to retailers," said sources.

Senior Excise officers denied any glitches in the new online indenting system and said there is "no crisis." The KSBCL in a circular dated March 28 had announced an upgrade of the entire software system and introduction of web indenting to all licensees. The Corporation took the decision following consultations with association and retailers on March 5. "There is no restriction in quantity for the retailers to indent any liquor brand available. As web indenting facility is being extended to all the licensees there will be a system in place for rationing of liquor among indenting retailers intending to get a fair share in a situation of short supply/scarcity of any brand of liquor," the KSBCL had stated in the circular.

Siddaganga College throws line to Ukraine returnees

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Tumakuru

WITH the future of medical students who returned from war-torn Ukraine remaining uncertain, the medical college run by Siddaganga Mutt has come as a ray of hope, having offered the students the required practical exposure

The students, who were in their fourth year, will continue to attend online classes with their respective institutions in Ukraine, and clinical exposure will be provided in Siddaganga Hospital and Research Centre (SHRC). It is a win-win situation for both the students and college, as they started their MBBS programme from the academic year 2022-23. Fourth-year students can work as interns in the hospital.

Dr S Paramesh, SHRC director, said, "It is not an official initiative as we are not supposed to give them a certificate for the training they undergo under the guidance of our faculty in the laboratory and hospital. The varsities in Ukraine, State and Union governments should take a call."

Kantharaju, a staffer, remarked, "Apparently, the initiative by the college following the instructions of Siddaganga Mutt head Sri Siddalinga Swamiji came as a morale booster or the students would not have pursued their dreams of becoming a doctor."

He clarified, "We enquired from many students across the state as well, but they have to accommodate their own as we are not providing any other facilities."

Ganesh Yadav, one of the 16 students, expressed gratitude to the college as the help he got is working like a bridge course.

"We have an expert faculty like Dr Shalini, who has over three decades of experience as our guide. We interacted with patients and have also got clinical experience in the lab," said Kushi, another student.

Min for light homework for Class 4, 5

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

MINISTER for Primary and Secondary Education B C Nagesh said the government is planning to make homework lighter for students of Class 4 and 5, as per the National Education Policy 2020.

Nagesh told TNIE, "The Kali Nali methodology adopted at schools already doesn't permit any homework for students up to Class 3," he said.

SSLC results are expected by the second or third week of May, he added.

He also said that re-tendering of uniforms will be done for government school students, as the cost quoted by stakeholders was abnormally high. "The stakeholders have claimed that last year, the cost of uniform was low since they wanted to push stock due to the Covid pandemic situation. Now, they are urging us to consider the cost of transportation as rates of diesel have gone up. The tender process for uniforms will be completed soon," Nagesh said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

06th May: Yesterday I spoke about the soul's journey through the planets. Another term for this is the 'soul-drama'. I like that thought. It reminds us of the idea that the whole world is a stage, and we are the actors. The planets, zodiac signs and our horoscopes are then part of the personal stories of our lives, and of our families.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Financial stars are highlighted once again today, and it does seem that you'll have a very brief window of opportunity during which you may make an extremely shrewd move. Aside from that, you may now expect a brief burst of passion in one special relationship.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon is a friendly planet for Taureans, prompting, as it does, the sort of delicate and lazy mood which you find so comfortable and reass-uring. Aside from over-sensitivity there is little to disturb your equilibrium. By the way, if someone tries to convince you that they're absolutely right, remember that you've only got their word for it.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Someone still does not understand that you have ambitions which must be achieved, or at least appeased. Neither do they fully realise the depths of your financial insecurity, nor your dreams of future prosperity. Be patient and give them time to come round.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Today's lunar alignments are supportive and energising, and should enable you to keep up to schedule and achieve most of your goals. First among your current plans should be holiday and travel arrangements. Actually, long-distance contacts are as likely to involve work as pleasure.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Professional decisions should now become much easier and before another week is out you should have a far clearer idea of your wants and ideas. Your immediate concern, though, is probably financial. That's a good enough reason to get all your affairs in order.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may try to go easy on yourself; no matter what pressures you're under, you really should let go and enjoy yourself. Partners have much to teach you about letting your hair down, sowing wild oats and generally being irresponsible! Indulge yourself for a change. You deserve it!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Partners are still a little confused, so wait another few days before attempting to resolve personal differences. The longer you delay your first move, the more information will be available and the easier everyone will find it to reach a reasoned agreement.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The Sun and Saturn are in a delicate relationship, signifying that practical and routine affairs should pass fairly smoothly. Yet you share with other people a tendency to petulance and a profound willingness to chance personal battles. But is it really worth the risk? Think about it!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Get on with family arrangements while you can. If you are true to the Moon's delicate and emotional spirit, then you will accept new responsibilities and even treat colleagues at work as if they are part of one vast extended family. Every word of encouragement will be appreciated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Venus, that emotional planet, is creating personal doubts, but is still inclining you towards domestic entertaining and family gatherings. At work, you should consider fundamental issues and make personal relationships your priority. For a start, pay due respect to people in authority.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You must try not to alienate colleagues or close associates who have supported you through family or professional struggles. One particular aspect is endowing you with business skills. Someone may even get the idea that you are something of a financial wizard.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You would be well advised to agree to differ over a financial or property matter. The fact is that you know what you want - and partners know what they want - and there is no point in coming to blows. I can see no reason why you shouldn't all be part of a better world.

2 youngsters die as car collides head-on with bus on Nice Rd

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 22-year-old man and his female friend were killed on the spot after their car collided head-on with a bus coming from the opposite direction on the Nice corridor in Kengeri traffic police station limits on Thursday evening.

The deceased are Sumukh and Leena Naidu (19). The latter was a BBA student studying in a private college near Kengeri and was a resident of RR Nagar. The bodies have been kept at the Rajarajeshwari Hospital on the Bengaluru-Mysuru Road. The incident happened at 5.15 pm near one of the Nice tolls. Sumukh, along with the friend, were going in a Honda City from the PES College side on Nice Road towards Sompura Gate. Due to suspected over speeding, Sumukh is said to have lost control and crossed the divider and collided head on with a bus coming from the opposite direction.

"The impact was so severe that both the car and the bus toppled after the collision. One of the car tyres, which got separated, hit a Toyota Fortuner from behind. The Fortuner was also damaged in the accident. The bus driver sustained serious injuries and one of his legs is completely crushed. A few other bus passengers have also sustained minor injuries," police said.

60 days on ventilator leaves techie with excess bones in hips, elbow

Undergoes surgery; infection during 2nd wave led to severe complications, drained resources

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

A private hospital in Bengaluru successfully operated on a 32-year-old techie with rare excess bone formation in his hips and right elbow, related to Covid-19 infection during the second wave.

Balaji, who was on medical ventilation due to Covid complications for nearly 60 days, was immobile, particularly in his upper and lower limbs. He developed Heterotopic Ossification (formation of bone with soft tissue) which is a condition normally seen in traumatic brain injury, stroke or spinal cord injury. To add to this, excess bones started forming in his hips and right elbow.

According to studies, long periods of fever, immobilisation and other factors can trigger HO. "If someone is on a ventilator and there is no movement at all in any of the joints, such complications can develop," says Dr Gopal Krishna B A, Consultant Orthopaedic, joint replacement surgeon, Manipal Hospitals, Jayanagar, who operated on the patient.

Balaji told TNIE that he had developed severe breathing issues during the second wave and was unable to find an ICU bed in Bengaluru. He then went to Ananthpur in Andhra Pradesh and got admitted to a hospital where doctors asked him to move to a bigger hospital, as his pulse rate was slipping. By the time he was shifted to another hospital, he fell unconscious. He was on ventilator for 60 days.

After Balaji regained consciousness, he was diagnosed with HO. He also found himself in a severe financial crisis, as Covid treatment had drained his resources, and he had also lost his job. He met Dr Gopal Krishna who advised him to undergo surgery. However, surgery could be done only after six months due to his financial position. His incomplete recovery from lung infection due to Covid added to the wait.

Dr Gopal Krishna recently performed three sets of surgeries, lasting eight hours, to remove excess bone tissue from three joints. Balaji was put on radiotherapy so that the bones did not form again.

"Balaji has undergone multiple surgeries and is on medication too. His life seemed to be at severe risk, but we are glad he's been restored to good health. None of the cases reported till date across the country were as debilitating as Balaji's," says Dr Krishna.

Post surgery, Balaji was put on regular sessions of radiotherapy, medication and rehabilitation which helped him sit, walk and do things by himself. Doctors caution that he may have to face the same complications in future. "This problem can recur. He should keep an eye out for such an eventuality, though I have taken all necessary precautions to reduce chances of recurrence," added Dr Gopal Krishna. Balaji expressed his gratitude to doctors at Manipal Hospitals.

Aasha wants kin to go ahead with sister's wedding

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

"I am doing fine. Please go ahead with my sister's wedding. We can have a reception once I recover," were the first soothing words of acid attack victim Aasha to her family, which is grieving over her plight.

"Aasha is responding to treatment, as per doctors treating her. She had a bite of idli, she had solid food for the first time after a week on Thursday. She is strong and she is instilling courage in us. We are getting ready for a simple marriage of her sister on Saturday and Sunday, with police security," Aasha's uncle Sundresh said.

He added, "Police told us that Nagesh had hinted to his brother two days before the attack, that he would appear on TV news channels and in newspapers. Police found 4 litres of acid at the washing unit of Nagesh's garment factory, and one empty 1-litre bottle of acid. They are looking out for the seller too," Sundresh said.

Meanwhile, as per a study on ten cases of acid attack victims, seven were by jilted lovers, two were by husbands who suspected their wives of infidelity, and one by a relative over a property dispute. Of these, only six accused were convicted, according to advocate Sumithra Acharya, research consultant of the 'Centre for Women and Law' at the National Law School of India University, who is researching acid attack victims.

NO CLUES TO THE ACCUSED

BENGALURU: Even after a week since the 24-year-old woman was attacked with acid outside her workplace in Sunkadakatte, the police are unable to get any clues of the 27-year-old accused Nagesh. Seven police teams are on the lookout for him.The woman was attacked with acid around 8.30 am on April 28 after she reportedly turned down Nagesh's marriage proposal. The police have questioned the family of the accused. The employees, who were working in the garment factory of the accused, have also been questioned. However, the police are still unable to make any breakthrough in the case. Since the day of the attack, the accused has switched off his mobile phone. He has also not tried to make any bank transaction. All this has made the police believe that it was a meticulously planned attack. Nagesh's uncle Krishnappa is cursing the accused as they are being disturbed by the police regularly. "Even though he was my relative, we hardly had any bonding. He never used to come to our house. He moved to the city around 10 years back and was working before starting his own garments business. In order to destroy the life of the innocent woman, he has even shut his business. Police are calling us everyday. We are just frustrated," Krishnappa said. ENS

Transforming Brain & Spinal Surgery With Revolutionary Surgical Imaging

SPARSH HOSPITAL

Over the last few decades, brain and spine surgery have rapidly evolved using the most innovative technological advances to fulfil the ever lofty goals of safer surgery that is not only more effective but also least disruptive to the patient.

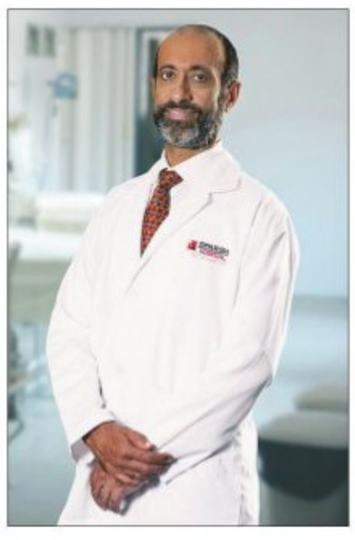
Many advances such as better imaging through various MRI protocols to better understand anatomy and function, functional mapping of brain areas, intra-operative neurophysiological monitoring, microsurgical techniques with built in advanced features such as intra-operative angiography and tumour fluorescence are now all part of the neurosurgical armamentarium.

Spine Surgery has now evolved to a much more delicate, precise and less disruptive place with the use of intra-operative image guidance using high definition intra-operative imaging of the spine paired with a surgical navigation system. These technologies are great enablers in the pursuit of approaches which are least invasive, navigating complex spinal patho-anatomy culminating in highly satisfactory outcomes in terms of post-operative pain, more effective and precise surgery with shorter and quicker rehabilitation.

The human spine in all its complexity has long been a surgical area where any intervention was considered fraught with great risk and poor outcomes. Over the last few years, research and technology have combined to alter this paradigm and shift it into a space where it now is just the opposite. The reasons for these are many but a few of the essential ones are:

- Better imaging- both preoperative and intra-operative
- Use of surgical navigation
- Intra-operative neurophysiological monitoring
- Advances in implant design and technology
- Novel minimally invasive microsurgical approaches to the spine

Of these perhaps the most revolutionary have been the O ARM surgical imaging system paired with surgical navigation. In simple terms, this can be compared to a GPS that one uses in a vehicle. The pre-operative images are akin to a map that one refers to on a GPS device. However these maps can change in real time due to various factors such as road closures etc. Hence the maps need real time updation. The use of high definition O arm imaging in the operating room creates a real time map of the spine. This "map" is seamlessly integrated with an optical navigation system (Stealth S8) that correlates this map to the actual patient in the operating room space using various trackers attached to the patient and surgical instruments. The infra-red camera of the navigation system is similar to a satellite in space tracking a GPS device and placing it on the map. The camera can "see" trackers attached to the patient and instruments and place this on the map created by the O arm with a very high accuracy of less than 1 mm. This high definition three dimensional map of the patient's anatomy is then used to gain precise keyhole access to the spine using small incisions with very little disruption of normal tissues overlying the spine. In addition it provides high accuracy without the need for the surgeon to visually confirm the anatomy- which is often responsible for disruption of normal tissues.



Finally the O arm surgical imaging system can be used to confirm the placement of implants and the goals of surgery at the end of the surgical procedure thereby greatly reducing the need for a revision surgery.

With this, procedures such as minimally invasive TLIF (transforaminal lumbar inter body fusion). OLIF (oblique lumbar inter body fusion), ALIF (anterior lumbar inter body fusion), scoliosis correction, MIS fracture stabilisations etc. are safe, minimally disruptive and highly effective ensuring shorter recovery times and happier outcomes for patient and surgeon alike.

SPARSH Hospital in association with Sita Bhateja Trust has introduced the 'O-arm' surgical imaging system' and 'StealthStation S8' Surgical navigation. Available exclusively at SPARSH and for the first time in Karnataka, this cutting-edge technology in Brain and Spine surgery offers surgeons enhanced visualisation and greater accuracy during surgery.

SPARSH is one among only 850 hospitals worldwide that offer O-arm Surgical Imaging. The StealthStation S8 and O-arm Surgical Navigation solution makes a complex surgery seem more routine and free of any errors.

(The author is Lead Neuro & Spine Surgeon, SPARSH Hospital, Infantry Road)

"At SPARSH, we have always been early adopters of ground breaking technology that can offer enhanced patient care. Dr Arvind Bhateja and his team are highly qualified, accomplished and experienced clinicians who have the technical expertise to use this revolutionary technology. We are confident that this new investment will allow us to expand the level of complex surgeries at SPARSH while also improving outcomes and quality of care for our patients.

TWO ACCUSED MOVE HC FOR QUASHING OF CASE

'Case, a tool of extortion by taking advantage of vulnerable students'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TWO of the 22 accused candidates in the Police Sub-Inspector recruitment scam have moved the Karnataka High Court for quashing of the case against them, claiming that they are innocent.

The FIR was lodged at High Grounds Police Station.

Rachana Hanmanth and Jagrut, accused no 17 and 1, respectively, have alleged that police are registering cases against petitioners who are innocent, and using it as a tool of extortion by taking advantage of vulnerable students who are generally timid.

The petitions state that the investigating officer had issued notice to 172 applicants, asking them to appear for investigation along with carbon copies and hall tickets, and they had accordingly appeared. Copies of the OMR sheets and carbon copies were sent for FSL, and prima facie, it was noticed that there were mismatches between OMR and carbon copies of 22 candidates.

The petitioners further stated that 22 candidates were called for investigation as they were unable to give an explanation on the mismatch between the OMR sheet and carbon copy, and the investigation officer registered an FIR against them. Though the tenor of the complaint did not disclose any cognisable offence against the petitioners, like cheating, forgery, etc, the complaint was registered falsely, projecting them as accused, the petitioners alleged.

The matter came before the vacation bench of Justice S Vishwajith Shetty, which adjourned the same for compliance of objections.

Govt covering up PSI scam, says Siddu

MYSURU: Accusing the State Government of trying to cover up the PSI recruitment scam, Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah has demanded a judicial probe under the supervision of a High Court judge as the police will not be able to conduct an impartial inquiry against the government in power. He said the police have arrested touts involved in the scam and are yet to identify the kingpins behind what he called a Rs300-crore recruitment scam. Accusing police officers, politicians and the government of being involved in the scam, he lashed out at Home Minister Araga Jnanendra for denying any lapses in conducting examinations when his own partymen had called out the irregularities. Siddaramaiah accused Araga of misleading the House by making "irresponsible statements" and demanded his resignation. Referring to two relatives of Higher Education Minister Dr CS Ashwath Narayan bagging ranks in the final list, the former CM asked why did the police, who summoned the duo, allow them to go after questioning while all others were sent to judicial custody. "If there is no fraud in PSI examination, why did the government transfer top police officers and annul the list?" he asked. Siddaramaiah said both B S Yediyurappa and Basavaraj Bommai did not get the people's mandate but managed to occupy the top posts with money power. ENS

CM defends Ashwath, slams Congress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday came out in support of his Cabinet colleague Dr CN Ashwath Narayan, whom the Congress has accused of being involved in the police sub-inspector (PSI) recruitment scam.

Bommai told the media that the CID is probing all documents and complaints related to the scam. "If people are found guilty, we will take action against them... an impartial probe is on," he said, adding, "We have already arrested close to 25 people in connection with the case... we are not sparing anyone. Even officials involved in the scam have been suspended."

He hit out at Congress leaders for making "baseless" allegations against Ashwath in connection with the scam and accused the opposition party of being involved in "hit and run" without any evidence. "The allegations against him (Ashwath) are baseless," he thundered. He said during the Congress' tenure there were several cases of question paper leak and exam malpractices in various exams, including PSI and PUC, but they never took any action. "We are investigating now... The Congress is living in fear as their own party leaders are involved in the PSI scam. Their true colours will be revealed," he said.

Meanwhile, Ministers ST Somashekar and Kota Shrinivas Poojary also slammed the Congress. Poojary accused KPCC president DK Shivakumar and Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramiah of making baseless allegations against Ashwath. "The Congress is unable to digest the fact that people cutting across sections, including Backward Classes, are supporting the BJP. The Congress leaders are disappointed as they failed to win the recent elections to five states and hence are targeting BJP ministers," he added.

Minister Somashekar said Ashwath is working hard to strengthen the BJP in Ramanagara and the Congress leaders are making baseless allegations to defame him. "Earlier too, the DK brothers were against Ashwath Narayan. They even tried to assault him in public," he said.

Meanwhile, State Home Minister Araga Jnanendra in Shivamogga said that the corruption is rooted in the system. "... Because of Congress, money for jobs has been in practice. We are going to uproot it... and now Congress leaders are making baseless allegations against the minister to divert from the real issue," he added.

Satish Jarkiholi demands CBI investigation

Belaagvi: Questioning the logic behind CID investigation into the PSI recruitment scam, when the police themselves are in the dock, KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi demanded a probe by the CBI to unearth the truth. "It has come to light that several politicians and policemen are involved in the scam. It is better to hand over the case to CBI to bring the culprits to book," he told the media in Gokak on Thursday. ENS

Auditor arrested for GST fraud, duping taxpayers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A tax auditor's office and home premises were raided, and the auditor was arrested by tax sleuths from the enforcement wing of the Commercial Taxes department and local police. The auditor was found to be involved in a fake 'Input Tax Credit' racket.

Input Tax Credit means claiming credit for GST paid on purchase of goods and services used for furtherance of business. The Input Tax Credit mechanism is the backbone of GST, and one of the most important reasons for the introduction of GST.

Commercial Tax Commissioner C Shikha said, "The auditor used to collect money from GST registered taxpayers under the guise of tax, and misuse the tax amount collected without the knowledge of taxpayers. He was causing a loss to the government exchequer."

Shikha said the fraud came to light when officials were investigating payers with very large Input Tax Credit claims. They realised the fraud when field intelligence and data available on the department's system realised that things were not adding up, and upon verification, they stumbled on evidence that the auditor had duped 12 taxpayers to the tune of about Rs 10 crore.

The sleuths managed to recover Rs 5.31 crore from the business entities, and began investigation under the relevant rules. The companies and businesses that were defrauded, have filed multiple FIRs against the errant auditor across police stations, leading to his arrest.

"Taxpayers are advised to exercise due care and diligence while paying liabilities through a third person, and effectively utilise services of the GST helpdesk at local GST offices to safeguard themselves," Shikha warned.

Task force to upgrade govt engg colleges

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai has directed the officials concerned to constitute a task force to upgrade seven government engineering colleges in the state on par with the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT). Bommai, during a review meeting on Thursday, said the task force will have representation from NITs, IITs and other education experts and will be constituted within two days.

The seven colleges selected are in Kalaburagi, Haveri , Karwar, KR Pete , Kodagu , Ramanagara, and Bengaluru. "The colleges have to be developed on par with IIT by next year. These institutes should also give priority to research and development," he added. Meanwhile, the State Government on Thursday approved construction of Anubhava Mantapa at a cost of Rs 532 crore. The CM instructed the officials to complete the work on Anubhava Mantapa at Basavakalyan in Bidar within three years.

Horatti should uphold dignity of House: Hariprasad

"HORATTI is occupying a constitutional post, he met Amit Shah and said he will be joining the BJP. No one expected such a stand by Horatti, who is senior and has long experience...before coming to such a decision, he could have conducted himself in a manner that safeguards the dignity of the post he is holding," Hariprasad said. "Horatti is holding a high constitutional post. It goes without saying that he has to uphold the dignity and decorum of the House," Hariprasad said, adding there could be a Constitutional crisis if the Congress plans to complain against Horatti. "...because if we have to take it up formally, we have to file a complaint with the deputy chairman, and that post is vacant."

Meanwhile, Horatti (76) joining the BJP has posed several questions to the saffron party. "How will they accommodate him when the party principle is not to allow anyone above the age of 75 to hold any post?" asked a political expert.

As Horatti prepares to switch sides to join the BJP, a big question is how the party will manage so many contradictions. While Horatti is over 75 years old, it will mean denying the party ticket to their own candidate Mohan Limbikai, and giving the seat to Horatti.

Horatti is joining the BJP with the consent of the JDS, and there are many questions whether this is one of the first moves to ensure a larger synergy the BJP is building with JDS.

Video calling Kavalande village 'Chota Pakistan' goes viral, probe on

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

AMID several incidents of communal violence being reported from across the country, a video purportedly describing Kavalande, a village in Nanjangud taluk, as 'Chota Pakistan' has gone viral. The 40-second video, which has gone viral on social media, and tweeted by several pro-Hindu outfits expressing outrage, shows a group of Muslim men coming out from a masjid after offering prayers. In the video, a man can be heard saying, "Yeh bhi Paksistan hain... chota." Responding to this, the man recording the video replies, "Kavalande bhole tho Chota Pakistan, theek hain," while a section of the crowd is seen raising slogans in the initial part of the video. When TNIE contacted Mysuru SP R Chethan, he said that the police are investigating the case and would register a complaint soon. "As of now we can't tell much about it as it is still under investigation. We will reveal more details as soon as we gather more information," he said.

Meanwhile, Sri Rama Sene chief Pramod Muthalik has demanded stern action against the miscreants. "The government should immediately arrest the miscreants. Else, we will launch 'Kavalande Chalo'," he told the media in Belagavi.

Amend the law to allow visit to Sharda Peeth in PoK, say Kashmiri Pandits

KASHMIRI Pandits with backing from 'Save Sharda Committe' have urged the Union Government to make an amendment to the law to allow Indians to visit Sharada Peeth in Pakistan Occupied Kashmir (PoK) as previously done in Kartarpur.

They have also requested the Union Government to make arrangements for the pilgrimage. "Indians can only visit Sharda Peeth if they have their relatives there... but many do not. I had visited Kartarpur Gurudwara but why not Sharda Peeth," questioned the committee head Ravinder Pandita.

The members of the committee were at Bidadi to collect carved stones for the temple construction near the Indian side of Line of Control (LoC) at Teetwal. The construction is in progress and is expected to be completed in a year.

He also claimed that reclamation of the 500 square yards base camp plot on the Indian side and the construction of the temple, burnt in 1947, is in progress with the blessings of Sringeri Mutt.

He added that Muslims in PoK have installed a picture of Sharda Maata inside the shrine in 2017 and they offer flowers.

"For the first time, we have documents from the PoK government with a landmark judgment for the preservation of the Peeth and have received an order from the archaeology department on the maintenance of its sanctity. Travel and trade have made people to people contact strong and hence the amendment should be made to allow us to travel," he demanded.

Karnataka netas take time out to don greasepaint, face camera

ASHWINI M SRIPAD
@ Bengaluru

AT a time when Karnataka politics is gripped by high drama, made worse by politicians shooting from the lip, there is a different kind of shooting going on. A number of netas, including Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's cabinet ministers, are busy donning greasepaint before they take to the camera. The movies are due to be released in the next few months.

Karnataka's netas and cinema have a strong connection -- there are many actors-turned-politicians, including sitting MLA BC Patil, Kumar Bangarappa, Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambareesh and others. Just a few months ago, former chief minister BS Yediyurappa and Health Minister Dr Sudhakar had acted in a Kannada movie based on a young girl Tanuja, a NEET aspirant from Shivamogga. Yediyurappa and Sudhakar play their real-life roles, and help the girl achieve her goal. The movie is expected to be released in June. "We have completed shooting and by this month-end, we plan to release the trailer," director Harish MD Halli said.

Garadi, a movie based on traditional pehelwans and starring Challenging Star Darshan, features two minister-actors from the Bommai cabinet — BC Patil and ST Somashekar. Patil, the producer of the movie and an actor himself, is facing the camera after a long time.

Cooperative Minister Somashekar, who is also Yeshwantpur MLA, told TNIE that after he learnt that a movie was being shot in his constituency, and Patil was also with the crew, he went across to pay a courtesy call. "Patil is playing Garadi Ranganna, a pehelwan's role in the movie. When I went, I was offered the role of Ranganna (Patil)'s friend. Part of the shooting is over," he said. Asked about his experience, Somashekar claimed that the camera is not new to politicians, as they face them every day. Only this time, it is with make-up. Interestingly, Somashekar said he had played small roles in a couple of movies 30 years ago. But none of the movies were released.

Opposition leaders are also trying their luck. Deputy Opposition Leader in the assembly UT Khader is also acting in a Kannada movie, 'September 13'. The neta, who is on a pilgrimage to Mecca, plays the role of chief minister in the movie, to be released on May 23. Former nominated Anglo-Indian MLA Ivan Nigli is the producer.

Jagan blames oppn TDP for SSC paper leaks

Credits ₹709 cr to over 10 lakh students

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tirupati

ANDHRA Pradesh Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy on Thursday blamed the Opposition TDP and its leaders for the SSC exam paper leaks in the State and said they were doing it out of jealousy only to defame the government.

Addressing a public meeting in Tirupati after crediting ₹709 crore directly into the mothers' accounts of 10.85 lakh students under Jagananna Vidya Deevena scheme (total fee reimbursement), the CM pointed out that the paper leaks were reported at educational institutions that are owned by a former minister in the previous TDP regime. He said, "the Opposition party is enacting a drama to defame our government."

Claiming that TDP leaders were involved in the recent rape incidents that were reported in the State, Jagan slammed the section of media which highlighted them but did not disclose the details of TDP leaders who were involved in the cases.

"TDP leaders have been raising a hue and cry over the increasing crimes against women in the State even though they themselves are responsible for them," he remarked.

Reiterating his commitment to bring a change in the education and health sectors, Jagan said, "My father took one step for ensuring better education and health to all and I, his son, have taken four more steps for the same."

RACHAKONDA police arrested two persons in connection with the honour killing of a SC youth, Billapram Nagaraju (25) who married a woman from a different faith, in Hyderabad late on Wednesday night. Police said a fruit vendor, who is the brother of the victim's wife, and his friend, a car mechanic, attacked and killed him.

The accused attacked the victim with a centring rod and then stabbed with a knife, killing him on the spot, said Sunpreet Singh, DCP LB nagar of Rachakonda commissionerate. " The case was detected in a very short time, using clues from CCTV footage, the statement of the victim's wife and other eyewitnesses," he added. The accused were produced before the court and sent to judicial remand on Thursday.

Meanwhile, the victim's wife, Syed Ashrin Begum(22) told the media that when her brother and his friend attacked them, she begged them to leave them, but her brother did not budge and pushed her away and continued the attack. "We knew each other from our school days and got married with our own wishes," the 22-year-old said. They got married in January 2022.

The victim's parents, while demanding justice, said they were afraid of such an incident and had asked the girl to leave their son and even offered her some money to leave him, but she clinged to him, they said.

N-weapons meant to deter, not for use, says Tewari

Former minister Manish Tewari signs a copy of his new book in Bengaluru on Thursday | Nagaraja Gadekal NAGARAJA GADEKAL

FORMER Union Information and Broadcasting Minister and current Lok Sabha Member Manish Tewari said that data protection regimes in India are non-existent.

"This fundamental mindset that 'I have nothing to hide' is a very big impediment in creating public pressure which would ensure the right to privacy becomes substantive," he said. Tewari was speaking in Bengaluru on Thursday, alongside former National Security Council Secretariat military advisor Lt Gen Prakash Menon, on his book '10 Flashpoints 20 Years: National Security Situations that Impacted India'.

Apart from data protection, both Tewari and Menon spoke on a number of issues pervading India. On the issue of nuclear weapons, especially in the backdrop of the Russia-Ukraine war, Menon said the use of nuclear weapons was more psychological than physical. "It has been said that in a nuclear war, nobody wins. So any use of nuclear weapons would not be intentional, rather accidental, which is the greater danger," he said, citing the accidental firing of the BrahMos missile into Pakistan in March. He said it was time for both India and China to lead on a Global No First Use (GNFU) policy in terms of nuclear weapons.

Speaking on the book itself, Tewari said it was not aimed at servicemen, rather at his own colleagues in Parliament and legislature to sensitise them on the challenges the country faces. "We must use legislative powers to address some of these issues," he said, mentioning that 37 of his Parliament questions on the 2020 India-China skirmishes had been rejected. Echoing this, Menon said, "The main aim of the book to educate Tewari's contemporaries in Parliament and assemblies, I hope will be met sooner, rather than later."

Cultivation of mulberry rises in K'taka

THE institute has created face serum, bath serum, night lotion, hair gel, anti-aging cream, fairness cream, UV protection cream, heal guard, seri mitti, soaps and shampoos, body and hair moisturizer and wet wipes.

The products have been tested for side-effects on the researchers and their family members. The Institute has patented the technology and is now moving ahead to get royalty for it. so that commercial units do not hamper the quality.

One kilogram of sericin costs Rs 15,000-Rs 30,000, while a silk sari costs Rs 5,000. So by bringing in more such products, farmers' incomes can be doubled, the cost of sericin and silk sarees will be stabilised, and rural employment will increase, experts at the institute said. The Institute is working with National Rural Livelihood Mission to reach out to self-help groups to make products in the future, Radhakrishna said.

The production of mulberry and cocoons is increasing in Karnataka.

4 held for assaulting bus driver

BENGALURU: A 36-year-old BMTC driver was assaulted by four drunk bike-borne miscreants over a trivial issue on Magadi main road. The bus was going from KR Market to Kenchanapura, En-route the accused were blocking the road by riding slow on two separate bikes. The bus driver could not pass through despite repeated honking. Finally, the driver managed to overtake the bikers. Frustrated over this, the accused overtook the bus and stopped in front of the bus. They barged into the bus and attacked the driver. A crimial complaint has been filed by the victim. The bus driver has been identified as Veerabhadraiah Hiremat, a resident of Yeshwanthapura.

Focus on booth level: Nadda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

BJP national president JP Nadda held a meeting with office-bearers of the party's State unit in Mahabubnagar on Thursday, where he laid out the strategy for the party to penetrate all sections of the society -- from boothlevel in villages to mandals and districts.

Nadda directed the party leaders to increase the number of members in all booth-level committees and to ensure the boothlevel in-charge

He suggested identification and listing of crucial voters like professionals, religious elders and prominent people in the limits of every booth. Nadda also directed Yuva Morcha activists to engage with local youth associations in villages

IT'S APPRAISAL TIME FOR PINARAYI VIJAYAN GOVERNMENT

Last May, the people of Kerala gave a historic mandate for the Left Front led by Pinarayi Vijayan to continue in office for the second consecutive term. It was considered a mandate for the CM's leadership and the development agenda that the CPM-led front projected during its poll campaign. Now, it's appraisal time. The fact is the last one year has been more about misses than hits. The initial months saw the government struggling with the third Covid wave. With skeletons of a death toll cover-up tumbling out of its cupboard, questions were raised about the much-celebrated Kerala model. The signature projects of the first Pinarayi government, including the 610 km waterways project, Vizhinjam Seaport and K-FON, have all stretched beyond the deadlines. While the second phase of the waterways project was supposed to be ready this year, the Cabinet in February sanctioned ₹6,500 crore and extended the deadline by three years. The ambitious K-FON project to provide high-speed internet at affordable cost hasn't even reached the halfway mark. Optical fibre was laid for only 13,958 km of the proposed 26,410 km network while only 7,159 of the planned 30,000 end-office connections went live as of March 30. The commissioning of the Vizhinjam seaport's first phase will take another two to three years. The national highway development that had been a priority project for the government has only reached the tendering phase.

Even as its big-ticket projects are limping, the government has shifted its focus to the Silverline semi high-speed rail project. The controversy, protests and debates surrounding it are keeping the government machinery busy these days. With nothing much to show as its one-year achievement, the government has repackaged many ongoing projects like road repair and school building maintenance works and presented them as new projects for a 100-day programme to celebrate the first anniversary. The government must walk the development talk. It has another four years to go, but no time to lose if it intends to keep the promises it made to the voters in the summer of 2021. What must be said is that while the LDF government's first term stood out for having a Cabinet of performing ministers, what the second term lacks is exactly that.

THE PERENNIAL MALADY OF CUSTODIAL VIOLENCE

The recent deaths in custody of two men in Tamil Nadu has once again spotlighted the perennial malady of police violence. While hardly unique to TN—or India for that matter—police violence disproportionately affects the marginalised and for those reasons (and others) often goes unpunished. A case in point is the death of a 22-year-old man belonging to an SC community. The postmortem report, released on Wednesday, said he had sustained 13 injuries. The man had died while in police custody due to seizures, the cops had claimed. In the other case, a middle-aged man belonging to a tribal community took ill and died while in judicial custody. In both cases, family members have accused the police of not sharing pertinent information and of assaulting their kin. While the chief minister has said there will be proper probes and action, it is pertinent to note that these are hardly the only instances of alleged custodial violence or deaths this year.

The worst of police violence dominated headlines in 2020 when local cops were accused of torturing a father-son duo to death over a lockdown violation in Thoothukudi. Subsequently, some senior cops attempted to work with their juniors on improving police-public relations. When the DMK government came to power, it reconstituted the Police Commission, which is also mandated to devise ways in which to improve policing and community relations. But what is required is a complete overhaul of policing and the power dynamics underpinning it. This must include creation of a more humane work environment for the police too, in which regular duty hours and paid time off that personnel can avail is guaranteed. This cannot happen without serious political will.

In the meantime, ensuring real accountability for errant cops is the bare minimum TN should guarantee. Statistics paint a grim picture: analysis of crime data shows that from 2001–2018, TN saw over 100 custodial deaths but no convictions. The DMK government, now completing a year, has a history of engaging in police reforms. In the present instance, it could display its commitment to its ideological moorings of social justice by ensuring the current investigations reach their logical conclusions in a timely manner.

Reports of joint Russia-Vietnam exercises scheduled for the same time as the summit are likely to embarrass both the US and ASEAN, complicating matters

U.S.-ASEAN SUMMIT: BALANCING REGIONAL WITH BILATERAL

On May 12 and 13, American President Joe Biden will host a special US-ASEAN summit to commemorate 45 years of relations between his nation and the Southeast Asian grouping. The summit, which was earlier scheduled for March 28 and 29, was postponed due to the unavailability of several of the regional leaders, who could not confirm their participation as the Muslim-majority countries were observing the Ramzan fast. Though delayed, the summit promises incremental steps in furthering US-ASEAN ties. By bringing the focus on ASEAN and the significance of its multilateralism, the US seeks to address a gap in its regional outreach that still needs fine-tuning.

From 2021, when the Biden administration took office, the key approach to the ASEAN region was to refocus efforts to invigorate some sense of balance to relations with the group, especially in the aftermath of the disastrous efforts of the Trump administration that undermined regional multilateralism and exacerbated the rivalry with China. Even as the US-China rivalry has continued, further complications have evolved with the Russian invasion of Ukraine, leaving the American approach to Southeast Asia hinged on both these events. For the US, Southeast Asia remains critical in terms of how America will shape its Indo-Pacific policy, while ASEAN still needs to evolve its strategy for the larger Indo-Pacific region coherently. The ASEAN Outlook on the Indo-Pacific (AOIP) still falls short of embracing the region as a contiguous unit. For the Biden administration, the recognition of ASEAN's significance to the US Indo-Pacific Strategy is a vital factor that drives the administration's reinforced engagement, which has seen a flurry of high-level visits to the region.

From May to July 2021, both Deputy Secretary of State Wendy Sherman and Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin visited six of the Southeast Asian countries, marking a significant effort at re-establishing the region's relevance to the US administration. The high-level visit of Vice President Kamala Harris, following the US pullout of Afghanistan in August 2021, was seen as a clear indicator of the importance of the Indo-Pacific strategy, even as it happened immediately prior to the AUKUS agreement that brought the region sharply into focus. While the core agenda of that visit was to re-emphasise the US commitment to the region, there were critical areas where differences were apparent. The American efforts to address the ongoing US-China rivalry in binary terms—'liberal' versus 'illiberal'—does not find resonance in Southeast Asia. Most of the regional countries are not adherents to the values of democracy unlike the Western nations and quasi-authoritarian control remains a part of the regional political landscape. Moreover, countries like Singapore have categorically rejected the notion of another Cold War in the region, which is economically integrated with both the US and China. This leaves ASEAN little choice but to remain neutral in the face of increasing tensions between the two powers. As the implications of major power rivalry on the region increases, it needs to be underscored that ASEAN should not be held ransom to these shifts. The region has been far more vulnerable to the shifts, while its institutional processes have remained inadequate to address the challenges.

In October 2021, an earlier US-ASEAN Summit was held in which American President Biden participated with a slew of new initiatives to endorse his nation's commitment to the group. The assistance of $102 million towards funding issues of mutual concern such as recovery from the pandemic and climate change in the region were key areas on which convergences emerged in US-ASEAN ties. Additionally the region also received 40 million jabs from the US as part of its vaccine diplomacy to fight Covid and an additional $200 million in medical supplies for pandemic assistance. This approach to vaccine diplomacy was also reiterated during the Quad Summit of March 2021, which was disrupted by the devastating second wave that India faced. Addressing vaccine diplomacy is now seen as a vital component of sustaining ties with both Southeast Asia and the Pacific islands, not just for the US, but for the Quad countries too.

> The American efforts to address the ongoing US-China rivalry in binary terms—'liberal' versus 'illiberal'—does not find resonance in Southeast Asia. The region is economically integrated with both the US and China. This leaves ASEAN little choice but to remain neutral in the face of increasing tensions between the two powers

Areas of economic integration with America remain a core issue that will drive the US-ASEAN interests further. The US withdrawal from the TPP and the Biden administration's decision to stay out of the CPTPP have created a space where the ASEAN-driven RCEP has changed the economic calculus in the region to China's advantage. While the drivers of the US security engagement are relatively high, for ASEAN, the economic angle also remains significant. In addressing this, the October 2021 summit saw the Biden administration unveil the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework (IPEF), which was to be the US answer to building greater economic resilience among its partner countries across the Indo-Pacific, with Southeast Asia as a core in the pivot. The IPEF seeks to address areas such as fair and durable trade practices, supply chain resilience, and energy and environmental standards while addressing infrastructure needs and transparency. These factors were further reiterated by the visit of US Secretary of State Anthony Blinken, where the emphasis on the economic architecture for the region was once again referred to in the context of ASEAN as a critical cog in the wheel.

There are, however, challenges that persist even as the summit is taking shape. These relate to the bilateral ties that the US has with some of the ASEAN members. Myanmar will remain away from the summit and so this formula will be a 1+9 mechanism in adherence to the ASEAN principle of Myanmar being represented by a non-official. Moreover, the close relations of both Cambodia and Laos with China will make it essential to address the US ties with these two nations. Vietnam too has become critical especially in the context of the Russian war on Ukraine. Reports of joint Russia-Vietnam exercises scheduled for the same time as the summit are likely to embarrass both the US and ASEAN, complicating matters. This summit will need to fine-tune several notes, but balancing the regional and bilateral will be key.

DIGITAL MARKETS AND COMPETITION LAW IN INDIA

KAVYA LALCHANDANI
Legal scholar based in the UK

Most of the competition agencies determine the relevant market as a start point of their inquiries. This inquiry is also based on de minimis thresholds that depend on the assets or turnovers of the companies in India. The traditional methods of applying the tests to get a definitive answer on such a platform's behaviour is a challenging task. The Competition Commission of India (CCI) has played an active role in this area and gave a favourable analysis in the Facebook-Reliance merger. This was based on synergies that were to be derived due to the merger. The synergies were not only found to be in industrial integration but also net neutrality.

But what happens in cases of what Europeans call the killer acquisitions? These acquisitions occur frequently in digital markets and pharmaceuticals where the start-up or business is not big enough yet in terms of volume of sales but are being eyed for acquisition by the big players. While addressing the laws relating to digital markets, the EU Competition Commissioner has said this while discussing the challenges posed by them: "These include defining markets for multi-sided platforms, in particular where services are supplied at zero monetary price, defining markets for 'ecosystems' or for data, and assessing online vs offline competition." The Digital Markets Act has specifically been agreed upon recently by the EU member states to deal with such issues. It was thought important because the EU considers defining the market as the logical first step in its investigations.

While deciding the Google/FitBit merger case in the EU, the Commission placed excessive reliance on how information sharing between the two companies could have adverse competitive effects as well as compromise the privacy of individuals. The court subsequently held that it is enough if Google holds the data gathered through FitBit in data silos (in isolation) and the privacy issue can be dealt with by the fact that the American tech giant will be governed by the principles of GDPR.

Since there is no enactment in India that exclusively deals with digital markets (only consumer protection rules have been passed for the e-commerce industries) or data protection of individuals (which is still dealt with by a few sections under the Information Technology Act and cannot be held as a comprehensive code for information protection), the situation cannot be addressed in the most direct way.

> Since there is no enactment in India that exclusively deals with digital markets or data protection of individuals, the merger situation cannot be dealt with in the most direct way. With the increase in merger activity and boom of start-ups in India and globally, taking timely measures in this regard would be beneficial for our country

While much depends on the outlook of the agencies deciding the cases, that is, whether they have an interventionist attitude or not, the CCI has maintained this balance by taking into account the pro-competitive and anti-competitive factors and ultimately their effect on the consumers. This was one of the reasons for the approval of the Facebook-Reliance deal. One thing that the CCI should push for is that the privacy issues should be taken care of by separate legislation or rules. This is all the more important because the parties will keep contending that the CCI cannot traverse its jurisdictional boundaries, i.e., the fact that it should be dealt with by a different regulator will always come as a ready defence from the parties. This can be seen in the Bharti Airtel and Facebook/WhatsApp cases.

One way out of the strict market definition determination practice is to rather apply tools such as upward pricing pressure and group upward price pressure analysis, which will be an economics-based approach. This analysis is followed by the US. Defining the market is not the first step for the Federal Trade Commission or the Department of Justice (the two agencies entrusted with the responsibility for keeping competition in check). Nothing would be more suitable than being able to define the market but it should not be treated as a goal in every case.

Parties can have pre-filing consultations with the CCI, which was introduced in 2020. So it is always beneficial to engage in such consultation, to avoid intervention at a later stage, to save the resources and time.

With the increase in merger activity and boom of start-ups in India and globally, taking timely measures in this regard would be beneficial for our country and also for it to be viewed as a favourable destination for mergers. Striking a balance and not prohibiting those mergers that would have pro-competitive effects on the consumers and the economy goes to the heart of a balanced competition regime.

Changes needed in K'taka

The loud thinking about effecting big changes in the Karnataka Cabinet is welcome. Weeding out the inefficient and corrupt will help assuage the anger of the public and benefit the BJP. Implementing changes at this stage is sagacious and it is time to extricate the party from the grip of selfish leaders.

Novel idea can help

This is with reference to Modi gives 'Chalo India' call to Danes (May 4). The prime minister, during his interaction with the Indian diaspora in Denmark, put forward a suggestion to them that each one could try to convince five Danish people to visit our country every year. This is a novel and excellent idea that is capable of strengthening the relationship between the two nations. People-to-people connections play a vital role in making the bonds between nations meaningful.

Timely audits needed

In a landmark judgment, the Supreme Court has said that the employer cannot not recover excess payment made to employees after retirement on the grounds of wrong application of rules. This verdict is very important since recovery of the amount during retirement life can land the retiree in trouble. To err is human. Wrong application or interpretation of rules is part and parcel of life in the service career of an employee. Improper application of mind at the level of case workers and supervisory staff results in economic loss to the department. In many cases, the supervisory staff and officers in charge are not in the habit of checking the letters or bills before signing. The officers have greater responsibility in discharge of duties especially when financial matters are involved. But more often than not, case workers are made scapegoats. Timely audits must be conducted to exercise effective control over financial matters.

Access to information

The apex court has sought the opinion of the Central and state governments on having sign language interpreters in all press briefings ('Sign interpreter must at PM, CM briefings', May 4). People with disabilities too need access to information. We used to have sign language interpreters on DD News and it is worthwhile to expand it further for the benefit of people with disabilities.

Modi, Macron talk trade Ukraine, Indo-Pacific

PM Modi highlights the range of cooperation between India, France

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

NARENDRA Modi and Emmanuel Macron met like two old friends when the Prime Minister, on the last leg of his three-nation trip, landed in Paris late Wednesday night and held discussions with the French President on a whole gamut of bilateral and global issues, including the Ukraine conflict, the Indo-Pacific, trade, terrorism and the strategic partnership between India and France.

"We talked at length about bilateral as well as global issues. India and France are proud developmental partners with the partnership spread across different sectors," the PM later said.

Modi last visited France in August 2019 and two leaders have stayed in touch through calls and written communication. They also met on the sidelines of the G20 Summit last year.

"We discussed different ongoing international crises as well as our strategic partnership. We also talked about food security issues and farm initiative in which India will play a key role," said the French President.

All key areas of bilateral engagement, including defence, space, civil nuclear cooperation and people-to-people linkages came up for discussions.

In the defence segment, the six Scorpene submarines built at MDL in Mumbai illustrate the level of transfer of technology from France to India in line with the Make in India initiative. The timely delivery of Rafale despite the pandemic shows the synergy in defence, said the joint statement issued after the two leaders met.

₹₹On Ukraine there was a broad understanding of each other's position. The two leaders agreed that close coordination and engagement was important. So that both India and France can play a constructive role in the evolving situation," said Foreign Secretary Vinay Mohan Kwatra adding that they also discussed developments in Indo-Pacific.

PM Modi explained India's nuanced position, while also calling for immediate cessation of hostilities and resolution of the ongoing situation through diplomacy and dialogue.

Both countries underlined the need to respect the UN Charter, international law and the sovereignty and territorial integrity of states.

External Affairs Minister, Dr S Jaishankar, also met his counterpart Foreign Minister Jean-Yves Le Drain during the visit.

Both the leaders exchanged views on the cascading effect of the situation in Ukraine.

Student exchange

France plans to have 20,000 Indian students by 2025 to study in the country which will create opportunities for new businesses, start-ups and innovation between the two countries, according to a joint statement issued by the two countries after PM Narendra Modi held talks with French President Emmanuel Macron.

Knowledge, cultural partners

India and France will explore the possibilities and mechanism to be a 'knowledge partner' in the creation of a new National Museum in Delhi. "The mutual interest in arts and culture has grown, and artists from two countries are eager to collaborate on projects such as festivals and residences," a joint statement said.

Cooperation on combating terror

Counter-terrorism cooperation was a cornerstone of the Indo-French strategic partnership in the Indo-Pacific. The two nations condemned all forms of terrorism. Both sides will take part in the `No Money for Terror' international conference to be hosted by India during the course of this year.

SC grants time to Centre to file reply on sedition law

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday granted more time to the Central government to file its response on the pleas challenging the constitutional validity of the colonial era sedition law. The court said it would hear on May 10 the arguments on the legal question of whether the matter should be referred to a larger bench.

Seeking more time to file the affidavit on behalf of the Centre, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta said that the draft was ready but needed to be discussed with the authorities.

"Two reasons why we can't file reply: draft reply is prepared by lawyers and needs approval from the competent authorities, and another reason is new fresh matters were filed later," he said.

This question of referring the matter to a larger bench arose when the top court asked senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for some of the of the petitioners, that a bunch of petitions had been filed with the prayer to reconsider the 1962 judgment in Kedarnath Singh v State of Bihar case, where a five-judge bench had upheld the constitutional validity of sedition law, that is Section 124 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, while watering down some aspects of it.

The top court has asked both parties to file their written responses on the question of referring the matter to a larger bench.

Sibal submitted that the top court can individually deal with the law and decide whether it should stay or go as times had changed since the Kedar Nath verdict was delivered.

Attorney General K K Venugopal, who is assisting the bench in the matter in his personal capacity, said the misuse of the provision, as it happened in the case of a Maharashtra MP for reciting Hanuman Chalisa, had to be stopped by laying down guidelines. However, the top law officer said there was no need to refer the verdict in the Kedar Nath case to a bench seven judges.

SpiceJet B737 aircraft grounded by DGCA after engine glitch

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) has grounded a SpiceJet Boeing 737 Max aircraft that returned to Chennai airport minutes after taking off for Durgapur in West Bengal on May 3 because of a technical glitch.

"We don't see any specific problem with Max. It is a particular engine-related issue that is being investigated," the Director General of Civil Aviation Arun Kumar told this newspaper.

A spokesperson of the airline said Flight SG 331 returned due to a technical issue and landed back safely at the Chennai airport, but did not elaborate on the 'glitch'. However, according to sources, the oil filter bypass for engine number 2 flashed during the aircraft's climb, forcing the pilot to shut down the engine and return to the Chennai airport within five minutes. The pilot requested priority landing of the aircraft.

This was the second episode within the first three days of this month that put the spotlight on SpiceJet. On May 1, the DGCA had ordered a probe into an incident causing injuries to 17 people on board a Mumbai-Durgapur flight because of turbulence.

Only a month ago, the DGCA had barred 90 SpiceJet pilots from flying B737 Max as there were issues with the simulator training them.

In another incident involving a Boeing 737 MAX since the ban on the aircraft was lifted by the DGCA, a Kolkata-bound SpiceJet aircraft had returned to Mumbai after take-off when one of its engines shut down in December 2021.

The 737 MAX aircraft had resumed operations globally in December 2020 two years after they were grounded following the 2018 Lion Air and 2019 Ethiopian Air crashes that left a total of 346 people dead. The faulty handling system of the plane was blamed for the two crashes. Boeing later revamped all the aircraft.

'TOUR OF DUTY' NOT GOOD FOR ARMY: OFFICERS

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE proposal to induct the youth for three years as soldiers into the Indian Army under the proposed 'Tour of Duty' (ToD), also called Agniveer, won't benefit the national defence even if it saves some money towards revenue expenditure, including pension.

Serving officers as well as veterans have voiced their opposition to the proposal, saying it will affect the organization's ethos. "The younger line of combatants will remain untrained or half-trained for it takes years for even a soldier to be combat-ready," said a Major General.

The officer said in case of high-stress situations such as counter terror and counter insurgency operations or in tough terrains like Siachen, such recruits could crack, as they wouldn't have much to look forward to in the organization beyond the stipulated three years.

"The performance of the Chinese PLA conscripts in Galwan and even those in Ukraine have given us enough sense that they were not up to the mark as they could not deliver in tough times where only a hardened soldier will last," the officer said. He said before such a youth is ready as a soldier, he would be preparing to leave the Army.

The ToD idea is supposed to be implemented on a trial basis for both officers and other ranks of the Indian armed forces initially for a limited number of vacancies. It can be expanded if found successful.

This proposal keeps the engagement as voluntary, unlike Israel's practice of requiring three years of military service for every able-bodied person. A youth once selected will be imparted one-year training and three-year service.

A retired Lieutenant General said the Indian Army's performance has been up to the mark in every war because of the ethos and training. "Regimentation is developed over a period of time when soldiers serve together in a bunker under the watch of officers and the JCOs. They develop a bond where everyone knows about every other person's family. Thus, the section, platoon, and a company in units is knit well."

Next comes the image of the regiment and battalion which will be gradually eroded, said the officer quoted first.

Art 19 can't be asserted against private party, Facebook tells Delhi HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

SOCIAL media platform Facebook has informed the Delhi High Court that the right to freedom of speech and expression guaranteed under Article 19 of the Indian Constitution cannot be asserted against it because it is a private party.

The company, now known as Meta Platforms, submitted an affidavit in response to a petition by a political satire handle named Wokeflix which was suspended by Instagram, another social media platform owned by Meta.

Twitter had also disabled the account when the user posted about the account getting suspended on Instagram.

"When was the last time a left wing, anti govt, anti Hindu, anti Moth, #Hinduphobic account was banned @InstagramComms ? The vile abuse and hatred being spread by the above is at all time high and you have a problem with this... #wokeflix #wokeflixanfchill#WokeFlixReloaded," said the user in their tweet.

Filed through advocate Tejas Karia, Meta in its affidavit said that users enter into an agreement with the company when they sign up to use its services. Therefore, the relationship between the users and its platform arises out of a private contract, in the form of Meta's terms of service.

"Meta does not perform an inalienable sovereign function and does not exclusively perform a function of public importance as a monopoly in its field," said Meta in an affidavit.

It said Meta is a private party, and Instagram users in India enter into an agreement with Meta when they register to use the Instagram service. "The Instagram service is a free and voluntary platform, and the petitioner has no fundamental right to use it... Accordingly, the petitioner's attempt to assert Article 19 rights against Meta, a private entity, is improper, contrary to law, and ought to be denied," said the affidavit.

The company also cited a judgment of the Supreme Court to substantiate its argument that Article 19 cannot be asserted against private parties.

Freedom qualified

It said the language and structure of Art 19 and its setting in Part III of the Constitution shows it was meant to protect against State action.

Four Khalistanis on explosive delivery mission to Telangana, caught in Karnal

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

HARYANA Police on Thursday arrested four suspected Khalistani terrorists near a toll plaza in Karnal while they were on their way to Adilabad in Telangana to deliver explosives.

Sources citing Central intelligence inputs said the suspects had links with the Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) of Pakistan. The police identified the accused as Gurpreet Singh, Amandeep Singh, Parminder Singh and Bhupinder Singh – all from Punjab. Gurpreet and Amandeep are brothers.

Security sources said the four were taking instructions from their handler identified as Harjinder Singh Rinda who is said to be based in Pakistan. The police have recovered a pistol, 31 live cartridges, six mobile phones and three containers carrying 7.5 kg of explosives, besides ₹1.3 lakh in cash.

Forensic experts said the recovered explosives are improvised explosive devices (IEDs) packed in three small iron containers, each weighing 2.5 kg. Each box had a timer, detonator and explosive powder. Nails were added to the deadly device to maximize damage.

The explosive material as well as small arms were air-dropped using a drone. Gurpreet had met Rajbir Singh, an associate of Rinda, in a Punjab jail, police sources said.

"Rinda had shared the Adilabad location in Telangana for dropping the consignment via an app which was found on one of the seized phones," said a police officer. During preliminary investigation, Gurpreet reportedly confessed that they received the consignment from across the border via drones at the behest of Pakistan-based gangster-turned-terrorist Harwinder Singh alias Rinda.

Sources said the arrested four had earlier dropped a consignment of weapons and explosives at Nanded in Maharashtra.

YATRA ROUTE TO POLITICS

PK goes solo, plans Gandhi March from Champaran

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

FROM being a backroom tactician scripting electoral success stories for various political parties, Prashant Kishor is ready to take the padyatra route to march his way into active politics. The poll strategist will kick off a 3,000-km foot-march (padyatra) beginning Oct 2, Gandhi Jayanti, from Bihar's West Champaran district.

At a presser on Thursday, Kishor was critical of RJD's Lalu Prasad as well as CM Nitish Kumar for Bihar's slide on development parameters.

Lalu was quick to dismiss Kishor's remark, saying "yahan unka koi thikana nahi (he has no base in Bihar)."

Kishore batted for an alternative development model that he would take up with the people along his 'padyatra' which will begin from Gandhi Ashram located in the historic district of West Champaran.

"Social justice was RJD's guiding principle when it was in power in the state for 15 years. Later the Nitish government's priority was development with social justice. Yet Bihar has remained one of the most backward states," he said. If the state continues in this pace, it would take another 15 years to be anywhere near the developed states, he said.

"The need of the hour is to bring together all those who have been closely associated with Bihar," he added.

Kishor took a swipe at Nitish Kumar for Bihar's poor health facilities, sub-standard education and the lack of job opportunities.

Asked how he would carve out space for himself in a state known for caste politics, Kishor shot back asking how one could explain Prime Minister Modi's electoral successes in various states that didn't have anything to do with his caste.

However, the poll strategist acknowledged the formidable challenges ahead. One is the lack of organizational structure, a serious hurdle that had forced him to discontinue his 'Baat Bihar Ki' in 2020 as the Covid pandemic broke out forcing national-level lockdowns.

On the contrary, he and his I-PAC worked in tandem with the Trinamool Congress in West Bengal due to a strong support of Mamata Banerjee's party.

The poll strategist will kick off a 3,000-km foot-march beginning October 2, Gandhiji's birth anniversary from Bihar's West Champaran district. He said he would work for next three-four months to help build 'Jan Suraaj' (good governance).

TMC misleads on CAA, will enforce post Covid: Shah

Mamata hits back saying BJP's divisive politics rejected by Bengal

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday reiterated that the Centre would implement the contentious Citizenship (Amendment) Act once the Covid waves subside.

Speaking at a function in north Bengal's Siliguri, Shah accused the Trinamool Congress of "misleading" people on the Act. "The TMC is misleading people by saying we will not be able to implement the CAA. I would like to make it clear that the CAA would definitely be implemented once the Covid situation subsides."

Meanwhile, a bitter war of words broke out between Shah and West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee during the former's first visit to the state after the BJP's debacle in the 2021 Assembly polls.

Mamata was quick to retort to Shah's remarks on the CAA by saying that the Act would not be implemented in Bengal. "How could a particular electorate be given citizenship when they had already elected PMs and CMs in the previous elections? The BJP is practicing divisive politics. The people of Bengal have already rejected it," she said.

Referring to the 2021 Assembly elections, Shah said the BJP accepted the verdict of Bengal's electorate.

"We took our tally to 77 from three in the Assembly election. We waited for a year as we thought she would rectify herself after coming to power for the third time but nothing changed. The people of the state are still facing atrocities of the ruling party. Don't think the BJP would be sitting idle. Our party will continue fighting against the misrule till people vote against the ongoing anarchy," Shah said in the north Bengal stronghold where the saffron camp had made impressive gains in the 2019 Lok Sabha election.

Referring to "infiltration" from Bangladesh, Shah said a political situation would emerge when the police and other agencies in the state will join hands with the BSF.

Mamata immediately hit out at Shah. "Will he create such a situation in Bengal? Will he be the conspirator? It will never happen. Don't ask the BSF to overrule the state."

CATTLE SMUGGLERS SHIFT BASE TO NORTHEAST

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

CATTLE-SMUGGLING rackets along India's eastern borders, which were active in the south and north Bengal sectors between 2011 and 2019, have 'shifted base' to parts of Assam, Meghalaya and Tripura over the last three years.

While BSF sources in Delhi and Bengal expressed "satisfaction" over the status of cattle smuggling in Bengal, the "profitable enterprise" in the three northeastern states will form one of the core issues that Union Home Minister Amit Shah will be briefed on during his two-day visit to inaugurate a new BOP (border outpost) in Bengal.

BSF reports from the Bengal and Assam-Meghalaya-Tripura sectors indicate that the "efficient" cattle smuggling networks prevalent in "cattle-originating" states in northern, central and western India likely effected the shift when "business dwindled" in West Bengal due to effective "local" measures by the central border guarding force.

"The networks in states such as UP, Madhya Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Jharkhand, Haryana, Bihar, Uttarakhand and, principally, Bengal have simply activated the resources in the three northeastern states," a senior BSF officer in Delhi said. This was a direct consequence of the arrest of a BSF commandant Jiju Mathew and administrative action against other senior BSF officers, including two inspectors-general and an additional IGs, in 2019 when they were investigated for their nexus with cattle smuggling rings.

Jowai in Meghalaya and Sitai and Sitalkuchi in Bengal's Coochbehar (technically in the BSF's Assam frontier), are the points from where cattle in large numbers are pushed into Bangladesh. In Jowai, for instance, a truck-full of cattle carries a "price tag" of ₹5.25 lakh, a BSF officer said.

Cattle seizure data related to the BSF's eastern (Bengal) sector shows a downward trend. However, according to a BSF report for the Jowai sector in Meghalaya, in February 2022, 550 cattle heads crossed into Bangladesh, followed in March 2022 by 970, 1,275 in April 2022 and 77 upto May 4 this year. Likewise in Dhubri in Assam, 75, 125 and 161 pieces of cattle were smuggled into Bangladesh by rustlers in February, March and April of 2022, respectively. Cattle smuggling also went up in Tripura.

Expanding the BSF's jurisdictional operating area depth in the border states to 50 km depth, which was previously 15 km, also contributed significantly to curb cattle smuggling.

Muslims of Shirdi okay with temple loudspeaker

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AT a time Maharashtra is riddled in intense politicking over the use of sound systems at places of worship, the Muslim community in Shirdi has agreed to bring down loudspeakers at mosques while maintaining that it had no issues with the Sai Baba shrine on the rule.

The Jama Masjid Trust has written to the police saying it has no objection to the prayers relayed through loudspeakers at the Shirdi temple. "We have no problem with the morning and evening prayers at Sai Baba temple. We will follow the Supreme Court directives and not use the loudspeakers. We have no differences with anyone. We have been living here together for years. We believe in unity and diversity. Our community participates in Hindu festivals," said a Muslim community leader.

After MNS chief Raj Thackeray's ultimatum to remove loudspeakers from mosques, the state government has urged all religious places to abide by the Supreme Court order.

On Thursday, Deputy CM Ajit Pawar advised Raj not to issue ultimatum to the government. Such diktats have no place in a democracy, the NCP leader said, adding that the state runs as per the rule of the law. "If anyone wants to give ultimatum, then he should give it in his home, not to state machinery."

GUJARAT FILES

Jignesh, 9 others booked for 2017 'Azadi' march

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Ahmedabad

INDEPENDENT MLA Jignesh Mevani and NCP leader Reshma Patel were handed three months of jail by a Gujarat court for holding a protest without permission in 2017.

Mevani, Patel and the Independent MLA's aide Subodh Parmar, who were among the 10 convicted on Thursday, were also imposed a fine of Rs 1,000 each.

Former Jawaharlal Nehru University Students Union (JNUSU) president Kanhaiya Kumar, who is now with the Congress, is an accused in the case. But since he was absent at the time of framing of the charge in April last year, the judge had decided to hold a separate trial against him when he appears before the court. The judge also excluded another accused who died in the course of trial.

The case pertains to Mevani and his colleagues taking out the Freedom March led an 'Azadi Kooch' from Mehsana to Dhanera in July 2017 on the first anniversary of the Una flogging incident. While permission was granted by the district administration, the order was retracted later. After the rally, police registered a case of unlawful assembly against the march organisers under Section 143 of IPC.

Mevani confirmed that he and his colleagues were convicted in the case and added that he would challenge the judgment in a higher court.

"It is an irony that despite laws like Land Grabbing Act and Atrocities Act in force, instead of those occupying land of poor Dalits, BJP government's priority is to go behind those who fight for poor landless Dalits," he tweeted. "Our fight for the allotment of rightful land to the landless Dalit will continue as ever," he further said.

Woo communities ahead of poll: SC, ST leaders told

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

ASSUMING that SC, ST voters could play an important role in the upcoming Gujarat election, the ruling BJP is trying to ascertain why these communities have been aligning with the Congress in earlier polls.

BJP national general secretary BL Santosh, who is in Gujarat on a two-day visit, had a closed-door meeting with the BJP's Scheduled Caste, Scheduled Tribe leaders at the party's state headquarters on Wednesday.

It is learnt that Santosh has directed the party's SC/ST leaders to work towards molding the communities towards the saffron party.

After his arrival in Ahmedabad on Wednesday, Santosh visited the RSS office in the city and discussed the feedback on the state government from citizens with Sangh functionaries. Later in the evening, he had a closed-door meeting with RSS prant pracharak, Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel and BJP Gujarat BJP unit president CR Patil.

Sources said the meeting lasted around three hours and the leaders discussed various issues, including the preparations for the election. Later, Santosh left for Gandhinagar to meet with BJP state leaders.

On Thursday, he is expected to meet with former and incumbent ministers and MLAs in Gandhinagar.

On his return to Delhi, Santosh will be sitting down with BJP national president JP Nadda and other senior leaders to share his assessment and then plan strategies for the Gujarat Assembly election.

Going by Santosh's remarks on the BJP adhering to the "no repetition" in Mysuru recently, it is speculated that the formula may be followed in Gujarat polls too.

Police arrest accused in connection with communal clashes over the hoisting of a flag in Jodhpur | PTI

After thrashing youth, attackers set bike on fire

Police said two youth were sitting outside a shrine in Sanganer town when some masked assailants came on four bikes and started thrashing them. Communal tension in Rajasthan's Bhilwara

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

DAYS after communal clashes rocked Jodhpur, tension erupted in Rajasthan's Bhilwara district on Wednesday night. The flare up happened after two youngsters from one community were attacked by about a dozen masked bike-borne assailants. The youths were not just beaten black and blue but the assailants also set on fire a bike parked outside a shrine. To prevent the spread of rumours, the district administration has suspended internet services and deployed additional forces in the area.

Police said the two youth were sitting outside a shrine in Sanganer town when some masked assailants came on four bikes and started thrashing them. The assailants later poured petrol on a bike and set it on fire. As soon as police got information about the incident, they rushed to the spot and admitted the youth to Mahatma Gandhi Hospital.

As the news of the incident reached the public through social media and other sources, a crowd gathered outside the hospital and started shouting slogans demanding the arrest of the assailants.

Bhilwara SP Adarsh Sidhu said the reason behind the attack on the youths is yet to be ascertained. Bhilwara Collector Ashish Modi said CCTV footage of nearby areas is being scanned to nab the accused. The Ajmer divisional commissioner has ordered suspension of mobile internet services from 4 am on Thursday till 4 am on Friday.

Gehlot claims BJP 'plot'

Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot on Thursday accused the BJP and RSS of "plotting" the communal clashes that have taken place recently across the country, including four incidents in Rajasthan over the past month. He also challenged Union Home Minister Amit Shah to form a committee to hold independent probe into the riots that erupted in 7 states in the past few weeks.

Goyal may renew his RS membership from MP

If the buzz in BJP circles is anything to go by, then union commerce minister and leader of the house in Rajya Sabha Piyush Goyal could be one of the BJP candidates for the biennial polls to upper house slated to be held in MP next month. Three seats will fall vacant after the expiry of tenure of three RS members from MP, including M J Akbar, Sampatiya Uike (BJP) and Vivek Tankha (Congress). Goyal (whose term in the upper house ends in July) is being seen as frontrunner for one of the seats, while an OBC face is also likely to be fielded by the BJP. As the numbers stand now in the Vidhan Sabha, BJP is set to win two seats and Congress one seat. Goyal is RS MP from Maharashtra.

BJP MLAs vie for work over cabinet berth

Amid strong speculation of a state cabinet reshuffle/expansion in coming weeks, some BJP MLAs in the race are not very keen at getting a cabinet berth. Two leaders from Malwa-Nimar region and one from Vindhya region (all multiple time legislators) were recently found discussing that they are not very keen at being inducted into the council of ministers. As per one of the legislators, "Just more than a year is a very short time to prove one's real worth as minister. On the contrary, ministerial berth for just over a year will stress the expectations of the public. Instead of being made ministers, we should be left to focus on our constituencies and pending works to be taken up on priority."

IAS official critical of K-Files backs RSS chief

IAS officer and novelist Niyaz Khan who had sparked controversy with tweets over The Kashmir Files movie, has now tweeted supporting RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat recent statement against communal violence. Khan, presently posted deputy secretary in the PWD department recently tweeted, "I agree with Mohan Bhagwat ji. Every word is true. India needs a strong united country not the divided one. We have already a great enemy China to fight against, then why we fighting with our own people. Only love, brotherhood and our unity can make India a strong nation. "Khan, earlier, had been served a show cause notice by the government over series of tweets against the Vivek Agnihotri directorial.

EC notice to Hemant's brother, tweets BJP MP

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

THREE days after the Election Commission sent a notice to Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren for holding a mining lease, the opposition BJP on Thursday claimed that the poll panel has sent another notice to Hemant's brother and Dumka MLA Basant Soren in a matter related to office of profit.

Godda MP Nishikant Dubey tweeted that being a complainant, the BJP has also been served a copy of the notice.

Even though there is no official confirmation, Basant is said to have been asked why his membership of the Jharkhand Assembly should not be terminated under section 9 A of the Representation of People's Act as he is involved in private business. He has been directed by the EC to reply to the showcause notice latest by May 12.

"There is new information; the Election Commission has sought explanation from CM Hemant Soren's younger brother and MLA Basant Soren, why his membership in Jharkhand Assembly should not be terminated. A copy of the notice has also been served to BJP," Nishikant Dubey in his tweet.

The EC had on Monday also issued a notice to Hemant Soren asking to explain why action shouldn't be taken against him for having a mining lease issued in his favour, which prima facie violates Section 9A of the Representation of People's (RP) Act 1951. Soren has been asked to reply by May 10.

Bhima Koregaon clash: Pawar blames Fadnavis

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

APPEARING before the Bhima Koregaon Inquiry commission on Thursday, NCP chief Sharad Pawar blamed the erstwhile BJP government led by Devendra Fadnavis for the Bhima Koregaon violence. "The police controlled by Devendra Fadnavis did not respond quickly when this violence happened," Pawar said.

The commission, set up by the state government, is looking into the reasons behind the violence that claimed a life and injured many on January 1, 2018. Riots had taken place at Koregaon Bhima village where thousands had gathered to commemorate a battle that took place in 1818.

The British had erected a Vijay Stambh as a memorial for the soldiers killed in the war against the Peshwas on January 1, 1818.

Referring to the Vijay Stambh, Pawar said, "In my personal opinion, the Vijay Stambh at Koregaon should be notified as an archaeological monument. Its possession should be taken over by the state after paying compensation to the Malvadkar family who is the current caretaker."

Pawar also said the Maharashtra government should raise a war memorial to honour the soldiers who have laid down their lives in various wars since India's Independence.

Advocate Ashish Satpute appearing for the commission and advocate Niteen Pradhan appearing for Milind Ekbote asked Pawar about his opinion on the sedition law. Pawar said since he is an MP, he would raise it in the Parliament.

Embattled Rajapaksa govt secures win in parliament amid stir

COLOMBO

IN a major victory for Sri Lanka's embattled Rajapaksa clan, their nominee on Thursday emphatically won a key vote for the position of Deputy Speaker in Parliament, demonstrating the government's ability to prove their parliamentary majority despite raging public protests demanding the resignation of President Gotabaya Rajapaksa for mishandling the worst economic crisis in decades.

MP Ranjith Siyambalapitiya, who was backed by the ruling coalition led by President Gotabhaya Rajapaksa, was re-elected as the Deputy Speaker with 148 out of 225 MPs voting in favour of him while Imithiaz Bakeer Markar, who was nominated by the main opposition the Samagi Jana Balavegaya (SJB) received only 65 votes.

Three votes were rejected, and six MPs including 'dissident' government member Wimal Weerawansa were absent during the vote.

Siyambalapitiya, a member of the former President Maithripala Sirisena's Sri Lanka Freedom Party (SLFP), had resigned as his party SLFP decided to stay independent of the government. He had been bouncing back and forth between the deputy speaker position since early last month, and his re-election followed his latest resignation that was accepted by President Gotabaya Rajapaksa on May 3.

Despite the SLFP going independent, the ruling Sri Lanka Podujana Peramuna (SLPP) decided to back Siyambalapitiya in their bid to show that the government majority was intact. Speaking after his election as the Deputy Speaker, Siyambalapitiya said he had expected to be unanimously appointed by both the government and the Opposition.

The main Opposition leader Sajith Premadasa said they decided to field their nominee Markar as they had learnt the ruling SLPP was to back Siyambalapitiya at a possible secret vote. Premadasa accused Siyambalapitiya as a "government stooge." The government majority was seen as fragile since the decision by some 40 lawmakers from the ruling coalition declaring independence in view of the raging public protests calling for the resignation of the entire Rajapaksa family. With more members from the ruling coalition calling for the resignation of Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa to make way for an interim government of all parties, Rajapaksa stayed put claiming majority. PTI

Police tear-gas student protesters

COLOMBO: Police fired tear gas on students attempting to storm Sri Lanka's parliament on Thursday as the protesters demanded the resignation of President Gotabaya Rajapaksa over the country's worst-ever economic crisis. Protesters led by the Inter University Students' Federation were about to pull down the yellow-painted iron barricades on the main drive leading to the legislature when riot police unleashed a barrage of tear gas. Even as the crowds dispersed, police kept firing tear gas canisters that hit shops in the nearby Diyatha Uyana park, witnesses said.

Mariupol battle rages as Ukraine repels attacks

5 killed, 25 wounded in shelling in Donbas; Ivano residents urged to leave for countryside ahead of Victory Day

LVIV

HEAVY fighting raged on Thursday at the shattered steel plant in Mariupol as Russian forces sought to finish off the city's last-ditch defenders and complete the capture of the strategically vital Ukrainian port.

The bloody battle came amid growing suspicions that President Vladimir Putin wants to present the Russian people with a major battlefield success — or announce an escalation of the war — in time for Victory Day on Monday. That is the biggest patriotic holiday on the Russian calendar, marking the Soviet Union's triumph over Nazi Germany.

Some 2,000 Ukrainian fighters, by Russia's most recent estimate, were holed up in the tunnels and bunkers under the sprawling Azovstal steelworks in Mariupol, the last pocket of resistance in a city largely reduced to rubble over the past two months. A few hundred civilians were also believed trapped there.

Capt. Sviatoslav Palamar, who as deputy commander of Ukraine's Azov Regiment led defenders inside the mill, told Ukrainian TV that Russian troops were inside the plant for a third day and meeting fierce resistance.

The Russians managed to get in with the help of an electrician who knew the layout, said Anton Gerashchenko, an adviser to Ukraine's Internal Affairs Ministry. The Kremlin denied its troops were storming the plant. Mariupol's fall would be a major success for Moscow, depriving Ukraine of a vital port, allowing Russia to establish a land corridor to the Crimean Peninsula, which it seized from Ukraine in 2014, and freeing up troops to fight elsewhere in the Donbas. Fearful of new attacks surrounding Victory Day, the mayor of the western Ukrainian city of Ivano-Frankivsk urged residents to leave for the countryside over the long weekend and warned them not to gather in public places.

Palamar pleaded with the world to pressure Russia into allowing more civilians to be rescued from the steelworks.

Meanwhile, 10 weeks into the devastating war, Ukraine's military claimed it recaptured some areas in the south and repelled other attacks in the east. Ukrainian and Russian forces are fighting village by village.

As the battle raged in Mariupol, Russian forces shelled elsewhere in the Donbas. Five people were killed and at least 25 wounded in the shelling. AP

UN convoy en route to evacuate civilians

Warsaw: A new UN convoy was on Thursday heading to the Azovstal steelworks to try to evacuate civilians, its humanitarian chief said. "Today as we speak, a convoy is proceeding to get to Azovstal hopefully to receive those civilians remaining in that bleak hell... and take them back to safety," UN humanitarian chief Martin Griffiths told a Ukraine donors' conference in Warsaw. The International Committee of the Red Cross confirmed that "a safe passage operation is ongoing, in coordination with the UN and the parties to the conflict". AFP

'Still ready to give civilians safe passage'

Moscow: Russian President Vladimir Putin said on Thursday his country's army was "still ready" to allow safe passage for civilians trapped at Mariupol's steel plant, the Kremlin said. Speaking to Israeli Prime Minister Naftali Bennett, Putin said civilians could still be allowed to leave the besieged plant but Ukrainian troops must lay down their arms. "The Russian military is still ready to ensure the safe exit of civilians," Putin told Bennet, Kremlin said. "As for the militants at Azovstal, the Kyiv authorities must give them an order to lay down their arms." AFP

Western weapon aid incapable of thwarting victory in Ukraine: Russia

ZAPORIZHZHIA

RUSSIA on Thursday said Western aid to Kyiv had slowed its offensive in Ukraine but would not thwart its victory.

Nearly 10 weeks into a war that has left thousands of people dead, flattened Ukrainian cities and uprooted more than 13 million people, the Kremlin conceded that Western countries had prevented a "quick" end to Russia's military campaign.

"The United States, Britain, NATO as a whole hand over intelligence... to Ukraine's armed forces on a permanent basis," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said.

"Coupled with the flow of weapons that these countries are sending to Ukraine, these are all actions that do not contribute to the quick completion of the operation," he told reporters.

The outside help, nevertheless, was "incapable of hindering the achievement" of the goals of Russia's military operation, he insisted.

Peskov was responding to a New York Times article on Wednesday that said intelligence provided by the United States has helped the Ukrainian military target "many" of the approximately dozen Russian generals who have been killed so far in the war.

Since failing to take Kyiv early on in its invasion, which Moscow launched on February 24, Russia has focused its efforts on the east and south of Ukraine.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, who has tirelessly campaigned for help from allies, on Thursday launched a global crowdfunding platform to help Kyiv win the war and rebuild the country's infrastructure.

"In one click, you can donate funds to protect our defenders, to save our civilians and to rebuild Ukraine," Zelenskyy said in English in a video on his Twitter page, launching the United24 platform. "Every donation matters for victory."

Ukraine's government in April estimated the cost of rebuilding after the war to be at least $600 billion. AFP

New clashes at Jerusalem's Al-Aqsa mosque

JERUSALEM

CLASHES erupted between Israelis and Palestinians at Jerusalem's Al-Aqsa mosque compound on Thursday, after a 10-day cooling of tensions at the holy site, Israeli police said.

The police said they had repelled "dozens of rioters" who had been "throwing stones and other objects" at the security forces. An AFP correspondent said there was a heavy police presence in front of the mosque as groups of Jewish worshippers returned to the site for the first time this month.

Two people lie on the ground during clashes between Israeli security forces and Palestinians at the Al-Aqsa mosque compound on Thursday | AFP

The Palestinian Red Crescent said two people had been injured in clashes.

The clashes came on the anniversary of Israel's 1948 independence and followed a tense period in which the Muslim fasting month of Ramadan, the Jewish festival of Passover and the Christian holiday of Easter overlapped. Some 600 Jewish "extremists" converged on the compound, the sheikh of Al-Aqsa mosque, said Omar al-Kiswani.

The Palestinian foreign ministry labelled the Israeli actions a "declaration of religious war" while Jordan condemned Israel for allowing Jewish "extremists" to "break into" the compound. The site is Islam's third-holiest. It is also Judaism's holiest place, known to Jews as the Temple Mount.

Palestinians have been angered by an uptick in Jewish visits to the compound, where by longstanding convention Jews may visit but are not allowed to pray. Israeli Foreign Minister Yair Lapid has said the Jewish state "will not change" this status quo. AFP

LIC public issue subscribed fully on second-day bid

Policyholders' portion receives highest bid, subscribed 3.11 times

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

LIC IPO SUBSCRIPTION PATTERN

	Shares Reserved	QIB shares bid	Percent subscribed
QIB	39,531,236	15,927,870	40
Non institutional	29,648,427	13,996,530	47
Retail individual	69,179,663	64,526,700	93
Employee	15,81,249	35,03,400	222
Policyholder	22,137,492	68,906,265	311

THE LIC initial public offer (IPO) was fully subscribed on Day 2, underscoring strong interest for the country's largest public issue at ₹21,000 crore. Against 16.21 crore shares on offer, 16.69 crore shares received bid for, implying a subscription of 1.03 times.

Policyholders' portion was subscribed 3.11 times, followed by employee quota at 2.22 times, while retail investors' portion was subscribed by 0.93 times.

Retail and employees portions will be allocated at a ₹45 discount, while policyholders will get a ₹60 per share discount.

Nilesh Shah, MD, Kotak AMC, termed the response to the issue as "pretty impressive," amid the high market volatility, led by FII selling.

"The healthy subscription shows immense interest in the offering irrespective of the market trend," said Siddarth Bhamre , research head at Religare Broking. "The chief draw is the valuation which at 1.1 times price to embedded ratio is much cheaper than the life industry average of 3 times."

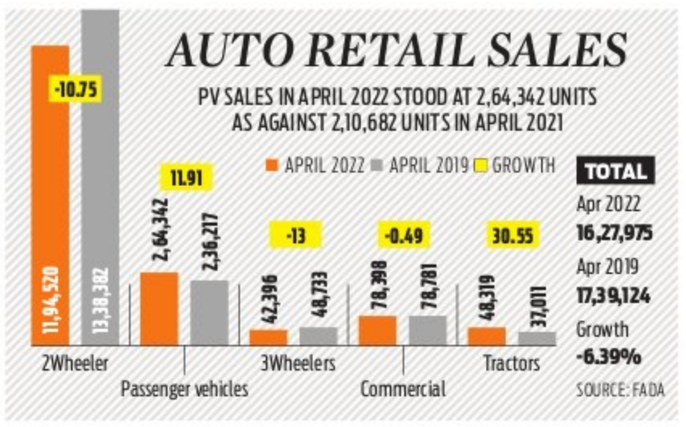
When the issue opened on May 4, the total subscription was 67%. The grey market premium, which was ₹55 -60 per share on May 4, rose to ₹65-70 on Day 2, based on the healthy subscription figures, said to Sunil Pachisia, director - institutional sales, Pratibhuti Vinihit.

"LIC intends to increase its share of high-margin non-par products to improve its margins which will augur well for the company over the long term," said Axis Securities in an IPO note. "Additionally, the company's NBP/APE (new business premium to annualised premium equivalent) growth has witnessed a strong rebound, enabling it to gain market share in Q4FY22."

Earlier, LIC raised ₹5,627 crore from 123 anchor investors at the upper price band of ₹949 apiece. Of the 5.93 crore shares allotted to the anchor investors, 4.21 crore shares or 71.12% was allocated to 15 domestic mutual funds through 99 schemes.

Retail auto sales still below pre-covid level

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi



RETAIL auto sales in April 2022 is still 6.39% lower as compared to April 2019 level, the pre-covid month.

According to the data released by dealer association body Fada, total retail sales stood at 16,27,975 units in April 2022 as against 17,39,124 units in April 2019. Sales in April 2020 and April 2021 were impacted by the first and second wave of covid-19 pandemic, hence a comparison is not suitable.

"April'22 when compared with April'19 reveals that we are still not out of the woods as overall retails were down by 6%. Apart from personal vehicles and tractors, which grew by 12% and 30%, respectively; two-wheeler, three-wheeler and commercial vehicles are yet to turn green as these categories were down by 11%, 13% and 0.5% respectively," said Fada President Vinkesh Gulati.

PV sales in April 2022 stood at 2,64,342 units as against 2,10,682 units in April 2021; 22,079 units in April 2020 and 2,36,217 units in April 2019. Semiconductor shortage continued to impact production and sales despite strong demand for SUVs. Two-wheeler sales in April 2022 stood at 11,94,520 units as against 8,65,628 units in April 2021; 3,18,596 units in April 2020 and 13,38,382 units in April 2019. Even though two-wheeler sales witnessed slight improvement month-on-month, numerous price hike, rural economy distress and high petrol prices is expected to keep a large section of buyers away.

Going ahead, recent repo rate hike by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is likely to have a major impact in auto sales, which already is facing double whammy of supply-chain disruption and increased cost of purchase. Fada said the Russia-Ukraine war and China lockdown will continue to create demand-supply mis-match, thus delaying the availability of passenger vehicles.

SUDARSHAN VENU ELEVATED AS MD OF TVS MOTOR

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

HOMEGROWN auto major TVS Motor has elevated Sudarshan Venu as the managing director of the company, effective Thursday. He was donning role of the Joint managing director of the company till Wednesday.

Sudarshan so far has played a key role towards electrification in TVS and in expanding the Cos reach in the global markets including Asia, Africa, and more recently in Europe. According to industry executives, it was under his direct watch that TVS acquired legacy UK-based motorcycle brand Norton and charted its revival. Sudarshan also spearheaded acquisition of Swiss E-Mobility Group (SEMG) and EGO Movement.

Going forward, TVS has aggressive plans in electric two-wheeler space and IT will take on rival players such as Bajaj Auto and Hero Motocorp and new age players such as Ola Electric and Ather Energy.

Sudarshan's elevation also coincides with the appointment of Sir Ralf Dieter Speth as the Chairman of the company. It is the first time when a non-family member will be the chairman of the Chennai-based company.

Venu Srinivasan, who has passed the baton to his son, has now become the Chairman Emeritus of the company. Till yesterday, he was the CMD of TVS Motor.

Srinivasan, Chairman Emeritus, TVS Motor Company said, "He has also led some key acquisitions and the expansion of group companies.." Meanwhile, THE company reported a 5.1% YoY decline in net profit to ₹274.5 crore in the March quarter. Its revenue from operations during the quarter surged 4% YoY to ₹5,322 crore.

Markets end flat; to remain under pressure

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

MARKETS TO REMAIN UNDER PRESSURE

Going ahead, the market is expected to remain under pressure as a host of factors are negative - from repo rate hike to subdued Q4 corporate earnings. Nifty and Sensex have corrected nearly 12% from their 52-week high

AMID high volatility, equity benchmark indexes Sensex and Nifty on Thursday erased most of the intraday gains and ended flat. This comes after the indices had lost nearly 2% points on Wednesday following the RBI's surprise decision to hike repo rate by 40 bps.

At close, the Sensex was up 33.20 points at 55,702.23, and the NSE Nifty was up 5.10 points or 0.03% at 16,682.70. During early trading session, Sensex had touched a high of 56,566.80 while Nifty was up at 16,945.70.

IndusInd Bank, Tata Consumer Products, Britannia Industries, UltraTech Cement and Nestle India were among the top Nifty losers on Thursday. India's most valuable company Reliance (RIL) also shed nearly 2% to close at ₹2,640.75. Adani Wilmar again crashed 5% to close at ₹680.20.

Going ahead, the market is expected to remain under pressure as a host of factors are negative - from repo rate hike to subdued Q4 corporate earnings. "Indian markets could continue to remain under pressure in the near term due to a host of reasons including monetary tightening in India and globally, geopolitical conflict, commodity inflation and supply disruption that have all led to subdued Q4 corporate results," Deepak Jasani, head of retail research at HDFC Securities, told TNIE. According to Jasani, in this weakness, Nifty can probably test 15,900 levels on the downside.

Nifty and Sensex have corrected nearly 12% from their 52-week high. A large number market analysts beleive that an additional 5% correction can't be ruled out due to global factors. The US Fed has already hinted at more rate hikes in its June meet, which may not be the expected 75 bps. However, it certainly will weigh on global markets. Owing to this and other factors, foreign investors continue to cut their exposure in the Indian market and have pulled out ₹17,144 crore.

India installed 10 GW of solar capacity in 2021: Report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDIA installed 10 GW of solar capacity in 2021, a 210% growth compared to 3.2 GW in the same period the previous year, according to a report by Mercom Communication India.

The report also highlighted that the country has a robust pipeline of utility-scale solar projects with 47.5 GW capacity at the end of 2021, with auctions pending for another 24.5 GW of capacity. India's rooftop Solar installation witnessed a growth of 138% to 1.7 GW in 2021.

"In CY 2021, India saw a record 10 GW of new solar capacity installed, a big jump of 210% compared to 3.2 GW the year before. The newly installed solar capacity in 2021 reached a record high, making up 62% of the total power capacity additions in 2021," reads the report.

The open access solar installations saw growth of 222% compared to the previous year, making it the second-best year on record. Fourth Partner Energy was the top open access installer during the year.

The total rooftop solar installation in 2021 witnessed a growth of 138% to 1.7 GW compared to the previous year. In 2021, the top ten rooftop solar installers accounted for 43% of the rooftop solar market share. Tata Power Solar led the list of rooftop solar installers, accounting for 20% of the total installations.

According to the report, utility-scale projects accounted for 83% of the total installations and the top ten developers of such projects accounted for 68% of the total installed projects in the calendar year 2021. Renewable power was the top utility-scale solar developer, which commissioned the maximum projects during the year, followed by Adani Green. In terms of module suppliers, solar imports in 2021 saw a 641% increase compared to the last year. LONGi Solar was the leading module supplier to India for the second consecutive year.

Consumer price index inflation up

THE rate hike comes amid expectations of consumer price index inflation having possibly risen to 7.5% in April from 7% in the preceding month, way above the Central bank monetary policy committee's upper tolerance limit of 6%. Many retail and SME loans are linked to external benchmarks like the repo rate and the 3- and 6-month G-secs. Last month lenders, including SBI, BoB, Kotak Bank and Axis Bank raised the marginal cost of fund-based lending rate (MCLR) by 5-10 basis points.

Cognizant net up 11%; supply-demand imbalance presents challenges: CEO

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

FOR the second consecutive quarter, Nasdaq-listed IT services company Cognizant Technology Solutions made progress in reducing voluntary attrition, as its first quarter attrition fell five points to 26% on an annualised basis.

Its voluntary trailing 12-month attrition stood at 29%. The company added 9,800 employees in the first quarter.

In an email to employees, Cognizant CEO Brian Humphries said the supply-demand imbalance in today's labour market presents challenges to all companies and to recover the rising costs of labour, the company continues to execute a series of measures, including price increases. Humphries, who marked his third anniversary leading Cognizant, told employees, "With the pandemic receding, we have begun a phased return-to-office approach that continues to offer you optionality on where you work. We expect to fully transition to our long-term hybrid work model over the coming quarters." The company boarded 33,000 freshers last year and this year, it will be hiring over 50,000 freshers.Of 3,40,000 employees globally, India has over 2,40,000 associates across the country.

The company, which follows the calendar year, has reported its highest quarterly revenue in the first quarter of FY22 at $4.8 billion, up 9.65%, compared to $4.4 billion in the corresponding quarter last year.

It posted a 11% increase in net income at $563 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2022 compared to $505 million in a year-ago period.

EARNINGS

Adani Power Q4 net up at ₹4,645 crore, revenue jumps to ₹13,308 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ADANI POWER on Thursday reported a consolidated net profit of ₹4,645 crore in the fourth quarter ending March 2022.

The company had reported a net profit of meagre ₹13 crore in the same period a year ago. The total revenue of the company has jumped to ₹13,308 crore in the said quarter from ₹6,902 crore reported in the same month a year ago.

Further, the consolidated EBITDA, or earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation witnessed an increase of 271% to ₹7,942 crore from ₹. 2,143 crore in Q4FY21. The EBITDA growth, according to the company, was aided by prior period income recognition, greater shortfall claims due to high import coal prices, and higher merchant and short-term tariffs and volumes, as compared to Q4FY 2020-21.

The company said during this quarter, APL, along with the power plants of its subsidiaries achieved an average plant load factor (PLF) of 52.1%, and aggregate sales volumes of 13.1 Billion Units (BU). In comparison, during Q4 FY 2020-21, APL and its subsidiaries achieved an average PLF of 59.6% and sales volume of 14.8 BU. Operating performance during the quarter was affected due to high import coal prices and plant overhaul, partially offset by improved volumes due to high demand for power.

In this quarter, Adani Power completed the acquisition of Essar Power M P Limited ("EPMPL"), and after the acquisition its thermal power generation capacity has increased to 13,610 MW.

Marico, Dabur revenues increase in Q4 amid rising inflation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AMID inflation-induced challenges, FMCG firms Marico and Dabur posted 7% and 8% year-on-year (Y-o-Y) increase in revenues to ₹2,161 crore and ₹2517.8 crore, respectively, for the quarter ending March 2022.

Net profit, however, increased 13.2% y-o-y for Marico to ₹257 crore, while slipped 22% y-o-y for Dabur to ₹294.2 crore.

For Dabur, at the operating level, earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) were up by 2.5% y-o-y to ₹453.6 crore in the quarter. Marico's EBITDA increased from ₹319 crore to ₹346 crore in the fourth quarter. Its EBITDA margin was at 16%, as compared to 15.8%.

"The dramatic rise in input costs was the major challenge during the quarter. We responded to this challenge with a mix of pricing actions and cost control measures," said Dabue CEO Mohit Malhotra.

Marico, in a statement, also said that In India rising inflation levels, exacerbated by geopolitical tensions, continued to weigh down the overall consumption sentiment, and even more so in rural areas.

"In the near term, we expect margins to be subdued following the renewed spike in commodity prices due to geo-political tensions, as we will continue to drive rigor in execution and market share gains without compromising on brand building investments to protect short-term margins," it said adding that the stress on demand and margins is expected to ease towards the second half of next year. While shares of Marico Ltd on Thursday settled at ₹520.45 on the BSE, up 0.15% from the previous close, Dabur shares tanked 1.55% to settle at ₹529.20.

Murray withdraws before match against Djokovic

Andy Murray withdrew from his showdown against Novak Djokovic at the Madrid Open on Thursday because of illness. The announcement came not long before Murray was scheduled to take the court against the top-ranked Djokovic in the third round. With Murray's withdrawal, Djokovic automatically advanced to the quarterfinals.

SRH'S ex, factor for Delhi

Opener Warner slams unbeaten 92 to help Capitals overcome Sunrisers

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

DAVID Warner was doing what he does best on Thursday. Up against his old side, it was sort of a grudge match for the Australian veteran, who has been as reliable as a swiss watch with the blade in IPL over the last decade or so (barring last season).

Last year had been a forgettable season for the Australian, who was wearing the Sunrisers Hyderabad colours. Three-time Orange Cap winner with the team, runs had dried up and his once happy association with the club, with whom he had claimed the title in 2016, had turned sour. The southpaw was first stripped off captaincy and eventually reduced to being a cheerleader for the team (was seen waving the flag in the stands in the second half of last season). So, ahead of Thursday's clash between SRH and Warner's current club, Delhi Capitals at the Brabourne Stadium in Mumbai, how Warner would go about his business was one of the main talking points.

The Australian answered that in emphatic fashion, delivering his best this season (an unbeaten 92 off 58), a knock that helped DC post a 21-run win and move to fifth spot in the IPL table.

Warner had set about with a four off the very first delivery of the second over by Sean Abbott, who was playing in the absence of injured T Natarajan. Prior to that, Bhuvneshwar Kumar was making the ball talk and had accounted for the wicket of Mandeep Singh, who had replaced Prithvi Shaw. Nerves were bound to be there for Warner, and that reflected in his shot against Abbott, which just evaded the fielder at cover point. Sensing Bhuvneshwar's threat, Warner played sensibly in the third over before opening up against Umran Malik, who struggled for line and length, in the next over. Two fours and a six later, Warner was showing sign of things to come.

Mitchell Marsh, No 3 batter, was sent back soon and Warner went back into watchful mode along with skipper Rishabh Pant before finding occasional boundaries. SRH spinner, Shreyas Gopal, replacing Washington Sundar, was economical in his first over but Pant, after a 11-ball 4, hit different gear to launch three consecutive sixes and a four off Gopal in the ninth over. However, Pant, building a skyscraper in the DC batting chart, departed soon after.

With 11 overs remaining, the responsibility was on Warner, batting at 42, to play the anchor role. He was joined by Rovman Powell, who was coming into the match having scored 104 runs of 52 balls in the last three matches. The duo kept the scoreboard ticking with some singles and twos. It was in the 12th over that Warner brought up his 54th IPL fifty, his fourth this season, with a pull off Malik's bowling. Umran conceded as many as 52 runs in 4 overs. The fact that Powell was dropped off his bowling in the 15th over by SRH skipper Kane Williamson didn't help matters. That drop proved to be a massive as Powell unleashed his striking power, hitting sixes at will off almost every bowler.

In reply, SRH lost three wickets within the first seven overs. Aiden Markram and Nicholas Pooran kept the team in the hunt with a 60-run parntership but that proved to be all in vain for SRH. Brief scores: DC 207/3 in 20 ovs (Warner 92 n.o., Powell 67 n.o.) bt SRH 186/8 in 20 ovs (Pooran 62; Khaleel 3/30).

Chess Olympiad: 11-day camp to begin from Sat

ENS @ Chennai

BOTH the open and women's first teams will have an 11-day camp from May 7 in Chennai ahead of the Chess Olympiad. The camp will have both Viswanathan Anand and Boris Gelfand to guide the squad. The All India Chess Federation (AICF) has roped in Gelfand, a two-time medallist at the Olympiad (2008 and 2010), specifically for the event, slated to be held in Mahabalipuram in July-August. The decision to rope in Gelfand to guide the Indian team has pleased Koneru Humpy, a vital cog in the wheel of the women's first team. The camp will see everyday training sessions apart from yoga and meditation.

SUR-REAL SURVIVAL

REAL MADRID STAGED A REMARKABLE INJURY-TIME TURNAROUND AGAINST MANCHESTER CITY TO ADVANCE TO YET ANOTHER CHAMPIONS LEAGUE FINAL...

COMEBACK KINGS

The 13-time winners have lost at least one match in each of the knockout rounds and yet are in the final. It reveals a lot about this team's inner psyche. On Wednesday night, they were surely done with just minutes remaining. However, they got two goals in back-to-back minutes through sheer force of will to force extra time. Then, Karim Benzema's winner had an element of inevitability to it.

AGEING SUPERSTARS, YOUNG TURKS

There is nothing great about this Real team. But they have this alchemy and vibe, an unexplainable magical element. They have saved up to entice Kylian Mbappe there but what they have now is equally precious. Superstars on the wrong side of 30 (Toni Kroos, Luka Modric and Benzema) who know their role and limitations and youngsters (Eduardo Camavinga, Vinicius Jnr, Fede Valverde and Rodrygo) who are beginning to grow.

UEFA CHAMPIONS LEAGUE

43 No of goals Benzema has scored this year in as many games (15 in 11 in the Champions League)

9 Pep Guardiola has lost six times as a manager in the semifinals (a record he shares with Jose Mourinho)

5 It's the fifth time that Carlo Ancelotti will be managing a side in the final, a record

17 Real will be playing in a record 17th CL final

7 Real have won their last last seven finals in the Champions League (last loss was in 1981 final)

Result: Real Madrid 3-1 Manchester City (Real go through 6-5) Final: Liverpool vs Real Madrid | May 29 | 12.30 AM, Paris

IPL sides may invest in CSA's league

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

CRICKET South Africa (CSA) is understood to have sent a proposal to the IPL franchises asking for their interest in investing in their new T20 league set to be launched early next year. It is understood that a couple of franchises are already exploring the possibility of investing in the tournament in which former IPL COO and current Chennai Super Kings consultant Sundar Raman owns a minority stake (12.5%).

Among those who are giving a serious thought about investing in the league include Chennai Super Kings and Rajasthan Royals. Chennai Super Kings Limited, the only listed company in the IPL, previously showed interest in buying a team in the Emirates T20 league, but pulled-out. However, they are keen on studying the business model of the league before placing any interest to the CSA to acquire one of the six teams in the league that is scheduled to take place in January 2023. That CSA has approached the IPL sides isn't surprising because some of them have been building their brand by investing in leagues around the world.

NATIONAL TEAMS FOR CWG AND ASIAD

Wrestling selection trials on May 16 and 17

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

WRESTLING Federation of India (WFI) has announced the dates for selection trials to pick Indian teams for the upcoming 2022 Commonwealth and Asian Games. The trials for women wrestlers in six Olympic weight categories will be held on May 16 at SAI Training Centre in Lucknow. The trials for men's freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestlers will be organised the next day at IG Stadium in New Delhi in six Olympic weight categories.

As reported by this daily, the WFI has proposed to send gold medallists of the trials for the CWG and Asiad while the silver medallists will represent the country in the World Championships. "So far, the proposal is for gold medallists to represent the country in CWG and Asiad," said Vinod Tomar, WFI's assistant secretary.

No direct entry

Unlike the trials for the recently concluded Asian Championships where elite freestyle wrestlers like Ravi Dahiya (57kg), Bajrang Punia (65kg) and Deepak Punia (86kg) were given direct entries to the finals, the WFI has decided to hold more bouts for them.

U-17 wrestlers to be picked

The federation will also hold selection trials for the U-17 Cadet wrestlers. The selected women wrestlers from all 10 weight categories will compete in the Asian Championships and Worlds.

Essex fined for ex-chairman's racist remark

AP @ London

ENGLISH county cricket team Essex was fined 50,000 pounds ($61,900) on Thursday in relation to a racist comment allegedly made by its then-chairman at a board meeting in 2017.

John Faragher, who quit his position last year, has denied what was described in the charge as 'using racist and /or discriminatory terminology.' However, Essex pleaded guilty to the charge as well as a failure to conduct an investigation once the allegations became known to all board members in January 2018. Essex must pay 35,000 pounds ($43,300) immediately, while the remaining 15,000 pounds ($18,600) was suspended for two years. An independent disciplinary panel said that there has still not been an internal investigation by Essex, despite attempts by its new chief executive John Stephenson.

Sharath donates prize money to Vishwa's family

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

A SHARATH KAMAL was overcome with emotion when he came to know about the passing of promising table-tennis player, D Vishwa. It was one of the reasons why Sharath, the grand old man of the sport in the country, celebrated the way he did after he won the final. He ran the length and breadth of the table tennis hall.

He has now donated his entire prize money, ₹2.75 lakh, to Vishwa's family. "I don't know if it (the prize money) will be enough or not but this is my bit for the kid. This is my way to show respect to the family. I will try to support the family as much as I can. His father has also lost his job during the lockdown." The Table Tennis Federation of India had announced ₹5 lakh for the bereaved family.
